Reinvigorating India-Nepal relations

O ne of the novel manifestations of India's soft power initiatives is sustainable cultural diplomacy and Buddhism is a crucial component of it due to its historical significance. India is applying the principles of 'Sanskriti evam Sabhyata' (cultural and civilizational links), desiring to leuvage it sage-old ich cultural links with other countries as a part of its non-coercive soft power strategy. The Buddhist faith, due to its emphasis on peaceful co-existence and its wide pan-Asian presence, lends itself well to soft-power diplomacy. In Buddhism, there is a prominence of al the places that are associated with Lord Buddha. Buddhists seek the fra ure places una are associated with Lord buddina, buddinists seek une fra grance of Buddha's teachings and quest for inner bliss. India has most o the Buddhist sites of immense importance such as Bodh Gaya, Nalanda Rajgir, Vaishali, Sarnath Varanasi, Shravastiand Kushinagar etc. Further the Buddhist sites of immenses importance such as Bodd Gupa, Nalanda, the Mandhais sites of immenses importance such as Bodd Gupa, Nalanda, Mandhais Asar Muralle Sin image of beings a precision of the presence of the Dalai Lama in Distarrabhais following blands has naturalled a Tibera Buddhist St. Ohlma. India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi is scheduled to visit Lumbini (Nepal) on May 16, 2022 which is Lord Buddha's birthplace and recog-nized as a UNESCO world heritage site. The Indian Prime Minister is ex-pected to pay his reverence at the Mayadevi temple, which marks the pirthplace of the Lord Buddha, born more than 2,600 years ago. Nepal's Prime Minister Sher Bahadur Deuba is also expected to join Prim Minister Modi to mark the occasion of Buddha Purnima. This would be th econd Summit level interaction between the two Prime Ministers in les than two months after Douha travelled to India for a hilateral visit in Anri 2022. This would also mark Modi's first visit to Neoal since he was r elected in 2019. In his previous term, he visited Nepal on four occasions including twice in 2014 and twice in 2018. In May, 2018, Modi had under taken similar religious and cultural visits when he visited Janakpur and ath. It should be noted that Buddhism is one of the largest religi in the world. Modi's visit to Lumbini would follow a revitalization of tie and the world. Wood's visit to Delhi in early-April 2022, when four agreements and a number of infrastructure projects were launched. The four agreements are Nepal officially joining the international solar alliance, Indian technical assistance to Nepal's railway sector, cooperation in the field of petroleum sector and exchange of expertise between Nepal Oil Corporation an Indian Oil Corporation. Deuba's visit to India and Modi's visit to Neps would produce mixed results but at the least, it has resumed high-lew rolitical engagement between the two countries. It has also brought no nalcy to Nepal's geo-strategic debate by bringing India back into the fok t gives a strong message that India is not only promoting the spiritualisn and Buddhism in its own land but also in Nepal.
