Jobs to the disabled in armed forces

in armed forces
Just two months ago the Supreme Court allowed to disabled to apply through UPSC for the posts in forces which were an interim order, the SC allowed candidates with physical disabilities who have cleared the civil services written exam to provisionally apply for selection to Indian Railways Protection Force Service (IRPFS), Indian Police service (IPS), as well as Delhi, Daman and Diu, Dadra and Nagar Haveli, Andaman and Nicobar Islands and Lakshadweep Police Service. Several times courts had appreciated the efforts of dis-abled persons. Again two days abled persons. Again two days ago, the SC asked the Centre to reconsider the stand on the issue. The court's logic is that not all police jobs require personnel to perform field duties. Candidates with disabilities are suitable for desk jobs and policy-making take. The three, indee making tasks. The three-judge bench told the Centre "experi-ment with it for a while and if it ment with it for a write and it it is does not work then you may not continue with it." It is expected that the SC should now take the case to its logical conclusion and ask the Union Government to design the recruitment process for dis-abled candidates. Disabled are a harried lot and have to face prob lems at every stage of employ-ment whether it is an entry-level or transfer or promotion and even after retirement and let the good wisdom prevail on the con-cerned authorities so that the sufferings of Disabled may be ed. Yash Pai Raihan Jalandh:

Seismic shift in global crude oil market

The sesimic shift in the global crude of market has begun to take effect. This is espected to market has begun to take effect. This is espected to markets in lightened crude markets as well as unprecedented within it trade flows, most notably of financian of from Europe to Asia. There are, however, signifi-cant infrastructure limitations for this shift, with only two pipelines, in cant infrastructure limitations for this shift, with only two pipelines, in-cluding a transit link via Kazakhstan, offering a spare capacity of only 300,000 bpd.Of course, there is a serious challenge as more cargose would be moved by the sea, which means higher insurance costs, risk of sanctions and in some cases seizures. The agency believes that reper-cussions of the Russian oil embargo currently being mulled over by the EU would lead to wide-ranging consequences, pushing oil prices highe in the short to medium term. As the sanctions are negotiated, crude prices will stay elevated as war-related uncertainty persists and sum mer demand kicks in over the coming weeks. The EU is getting very ime demand facia in over the coming weeks. The EU is getting very close to exacting its proposed ban on Resissani oil imports, including sanctions on shipping and terment stance of hungary in particular, a compre-ted to the EU and gleen the current stance of hungary in particular, a compre-ted to the EU and gleen the EU and gleen the EU and gleen the EU and gleen the Commission made on 4 May is currently being re-negotiated in Brussels. But what seems to emerge from althese deliberations is that the EU will act and impose an oil embargo, with cretain exemptions made for the land-hocked countries of Hungary, Slovaks and Csech Regulatir. The deal on the Leide appearuly involves a six-month phase-including to the cretical sunner of a remaind. I million had of all Resistan-includings the cretical sunner of a remaind. Russia has said its breakeven price for selling Urals is around $45 per barrel, so the government will likely opt for steep dis-counts to ensure a flow of budget revenues before enacting costly well shut ins. The seasonally high consumption months of June, July, and shut ins. The seasonally high consumption months of June, July, and August will increase demand materially as the travel season pushes up demand for road and jet fuel, and as the amount of oil burned in the Middle East over the summer period for cooling purposes increases. Projections of global refinery runs see an increase by at least 4 million bod between now and the peak July intake. The exp crease, as well as the strength in momentum for an EU embargo, has let analysts to maintain an expectation that oil prices will remain support ed towards the third quarter of this year. The market had not full priced in the EU oil embargo news, which adds to the tightness in the crude market for non-Russian grades such as Brent and WTI. But much will depend on the extent of the unprecedented shift in global crude trade flows this may cause in the months ahead.

Several times courts had appreciated the efforts of dis-abled persons. Again two days abled persons. Again two days ago, the SC asked the Centre to reconsider the stand on the issue. The court's logic is that not all police jobs require personnel to perform field duties. Candidates with disabilities are suitable for desk jobs and policy-making take. The three, indee making tasks. The three-judge bench told the Centre "experi-ment with it for a while and if it ment with it for a write and it it is does not work then you may not continue with it."
