इस बार रक्षाबंधन पर्व को और भी ज्यादा खास बनाने के लिए गांव-गांव में हमारी स्व-सहायता समूहों की बहनों ने गोबर से सुंदर राखियां तैयार की हैं। ये राखियां बाजारों में उपलब्ध हैं।

IIT Bhilai researchers develop smart materials

For controlled delivery of anti-cancer drug

Raipur, Aug 23:

the whole world is seen bowing

As per World Health Organization (WHO) data, cancer is the second leading cause of death globally, accounting for an estimated 9.6 million fatalities, which is nearly one in every six deaths in 2018. Globally, the burden of cancer is still increasing, exerting enormous physical, psychological, and financial strain on people, families, communities, and health systems. Cancer is a disease that happens when some of the cells in your body start growing and multiplying uncontrollably. Normally, our body's cells grow, divide, and eventually die in a controlled manner, which helps keep our body functioning properly. But in cancer, something goes wrong with this process. It's important to detect and treat cancer early, as many treatment options are available to help manage or even cure the dis-

comes. In order to achieve controlled delivery of anti-cancer drug, intelligent drug delivery vehicles must be designed. This is essential for delivering anticancer drugs to enhance the effectiveness of treatment while minimizing potential side effects. Although there are some drug delivery vehicles available, mostly it is tough to translate these phenomenon/materials into devices for biomedical use due to their limited payload capacity, high cost and lack of target specificity.

Researchers at IIT Bhilai, led by Dr. Sanjib Banerjee from the Department of Chemistry, have developed a "smart material for controlled delivery of anticancer drug". The material is developed via a simple and cost-effective "industry friendly" process and enables controlled release of anti-cancer drug. This promising material will be further evaluated to Jevelop intelligent arug ery device for biomedical use. This work has been published in JACS Au, an internationally reputed journal. The research is supported by the IIT Bhilai, DSIR, Govt. of India and SERB, Govt. of India.

Of Bastar division

Jagdalpur, Aug 24:

A total of 151 claimants have presented their claims as Congress party's candidate for 12 assembly seats in Bastar division. An application has been submitted to the block president for the candidature of the Congress. Being the only general seat in Bastar division, Jagdalpur has the maximum number of claimants. 31 applications received were for Jagdalpur. Jagdalpur has made its place in the first number on the 12 assembly seats of Bastar division. 31 applications including MLA Jagdalpur Rekhchand Jain and former Congress President Rajeev Sharma have come claim with a sizeable number of workers and supporters in this rally of show of strength. On the other hand. Excise Minister Kawasi Lakhma is the only contender of Congress from Konta There, no Assembly. Congress leader even thought it appropriate to present his candidature application in front of him. Having only one name, Kawasi Lakhma has become the unopposed candidate of the Congress and now only the formal announcement of his name is left A total of 58 applications have been submitted in the three assembly constituencies of Kanker district. Apart from the present MLA, District Panchayat President, District President, District Member, Sarpanch, government officials and employees are also included in the race for ticket in the district. Apart from the district president of Congress in Kanker, the Charama block president has also presented his claim. A total of 19 applications including MLA Shishupal Sori have been received for Kanker Assembly. Along with MLA Savitri Mandavi, 28 other leaders have staked claim from Bhanupratappur assembly constituency under Kanker district. On the

this time along with Devati Karma and her son Chhabindra Karma. Congress leaders from Geedam block are among the maximum number of claimants in Dantewada However, in the last assembly, apart from Devati Karma and Chhabindra Karma, only one or two names came up. The Dantewada assembly seat is considered the stronghold of the Karma family. Mahendra Karma's wife Devati Karma had won from here in the year 2013, but she was defeated in 2018. The biggest reason for the defeat was considered to be the dispute between mother and son over the ticket. Due to not getting ticket from Congress. Chhabindra Karma had entered the election field against his mother Devati Karma. Later, after the persuasion of the party, he backed down. Naxalites had killed Bhima Mandavi just a few days after the election. After which the by-election was held in Dantewada. In which Bhima Mandavi's wife Ojasvi Mandavi was standing in front of Goddess Karma. This time Devati was successful in

Forgiveness is The Best Revenge : Michhami Dukkadam

Dr. Arvind Neral, Professor & H.O.D. Department of Pathology, Pt. J.N.M. Medical College, Raipur.

.an ancient Indian Prakrit language phrase, found in historic Jain texts. It's a word of the Ardhamaagdhi language (language spoken during the time of Lord Mahavir). It's Sanskrit equivalent is "Mithya me duskrtam" and both the evil that has been done be in vain." It is used widely for the Pratikkramana ritual on the last day of called Paryushana in the Samvatsari Svetambara and Kshamavani in the Digambara tradition. The phrase is alternatively interpreted and said to mean, "may all my improper actions be inconsequential or "I ask pardon of all living being, may all of them pardon me, may I have friendship with all beings and enmity with

literally mean- "may all

i c h h a m i none." As a matter of Dukkadam is ritual, they great their friends and relatives with "Michhami Dukkadam", seeking their forgiveness.

A lack of forgiveness comes manv in forms...unexpected breakups, family trauma or betrayal of any kind easily cause resentment to take root in our hearts. It can be unimaginably hard task to choose to let go of past hurts and begin to heal, but decision to forgive will ultimately lead to a happier and more fulfilling life. It's important to understand that deciding to forgive doesn't mean you're dismissing or justifying the pain someone has caused you; it will however create space in your mind and heart for true joy.

There is no love withforgiveness and out

there is no forgiveness without love. It's a powerful expression of love within our soul. Martin Luthar King Jr. said -"We must develop and maintain the capacity to forgive. He who is devoid of the power to forgive is devoid of power to love" It takes a strong person to say they're sorry and even stronger person to forgive. The weak can never forgive, it's the attribute of the strong. Without forgiveness life is governed by endless cycle of resentment and retaliation. It's above all a personal choice, a decision of the heart to go against natural instinct to pay back evil. Forgive is a sign that the person who has wronged you means more to you than the wrong they have dealt.

Forgiveness is a conscious internal process and deliberate decision to let go the grudge towards individuals. This includes releasing the thoughts and feelings of resentment, anger, bitterness and the desires for revenge, punishment and retribution towards group or someone ; who we believe has harmed us. Being able to forgive is on the healthiest emotions in the universe. By forgiving we don't forgive the person who did something wrong but we forgive ourselves. Infact, forgiveness is the sweetest revenge. Mastering the art of forgiveness plays a crucial role in happiness and quality of our life. It's a precious gift we give to ourselves. People are illogical, unreasonable and selfcentered. If you do good, people will accuse you of selfish ulterior motives. Do good and love them anyway. If you are successful, you will win false friends and true enemies. The good you do today will be forgotten tomorrow. Do good and succeed anyway. Honesty and forgiveness make you vulnerable. If you find serenity and happiness, others may be jealous. Be honest, frank and happy anyway. Forgiveness is not a feeling ; it is a commitment. It is a choice to show mercy, not to hold the offence up against the offender. It's an expression of love and compassion. It may not change the past, but it does make the future more fruitfull and bright.

Along with this, a framework was prepared regarding the migration of MLAs of Odisha to Bastar. Giving information about this,

BJP District President Roop Singh Mandavi said that BJP MLA Niyanand Gond, who came from Odisha, will be taken to Bastar Vidhan Sabha, Nauri Navak to Chitrakot Vidhan Sabha and Subhash Pani Grahi to Jagdalpur Vidhan Sabha. After assessing the condition of the organization by taking a meeting of the workers, a strategy will be prepared to ensure BJP's victory and to remove the shortcomings. He said that every worker is determined to hoist the BJP's victory in all the assembly seats of the district.

Death of a Maverick

nfurl the somber banner, for the titanic realm of Russia stands awash in intrigue and consternation as news of the ill-fated crash claims none other than Yevgeny Prigozhin, the indomitable chieftain of the Wagner mercenary cohort. Mere eight weeks past his audacious bid to seize the helm of authority from the army's top brass, Prigozhin met an untimely end, his life extinguished amidst the northern reaches of Moscow. The sepulchral event casts an impenetrable shroud over the nation, leaving no survivors in its wake. Behold the Kremlin's sphinx-like demeanour and the Defense Ministry's vault of silence, withholding the official anointing of truth regarding Prigozhin's fate. A vociferous adversary of the army's leadership, he denounced their perceived mishandling of Russia's foray into the Ukrainian theater. Now, he is consigned to an eerie silence, leaving a chasm of speculation in his wake. Yet the Grey Zone, a steadfast ally of the Wagner group, reverberates with a bold decree - they declare Prigozhin's demise, immortalizing him as a heroic patriot, fallen at the hands of shadowy "traitors to Russia." As the void of certainty expands, conjectures breed like tempestuous squalls. Some accusatory fingers point to the very bosom of the Russian state, insinuating a web of intrigue and insurrection. Others direct their gaze toward Ukraine, poised on the cusp of independence celebration, implicating it in this bewildering tragedy. In the gathering dusk, the edifice that houses Wagner's sanctum in St. Petersburg assumes a reverent stance, its illuminated windows crafting a resplendent cross - an eloquent requiem to honor the fallen. The reverberations of Prigozhin's exit resonate deep within the ranks of the Wagner Group, an assemblage that drew the ire of President Vladimir Putin himself, igniting with its abortive coup against the army's top echelons. His departure creates a cavernous void, one that questions the group's venturesome forays across African terrains and far-flung territories. This absence is more than administrative it is symbolic, signifying the cessation of a chapter that dared challenge Putin's dominion, a rarity since his ascension in 1999. Rosaviatsia, the sentinel of Russian aviation, etches into the annals the names of the ten souls embarked on that ill-fated flight, a list adorned with the luminous legacy of Prigozhin and his lieutenant, Dmitry Utkin, the very architect of the Wagner saga. In the wake of this calamity, Russian inquisitors spearhead a relentless quest to unearth the concealed truths. Whispers murmur of surface-to-air missiles that orchestrated the plane's fall from grace, yet such conjectures remain mere phantoms, their substantiation elusive as a mirage. The intended voyage from Moscow to St. Petersburg was ruthlessly truncated, the plane's final resting place near the village of Kuzhenkino now a mournful monument of despair. As the investigation unfurls its enigma and the nation bows its head in grief, Russia finds itself grappling with a void of profound proportions. Yevgeny Prigozhin's inexplicable demise renders not just the Wagner Group bereft, but it also punctuates the very fabric of Russia's contemporary chronicle. In the countenance of this enigma, the nation stands resolute, demanding elucidation. The fall of a man who sowed dissent resonates not merely within inked columns, but within corridors of power, hearts that dared question, and the quintessence of a nation navigating uncharted territory in a post-Prigozhin epoch.

On the Precipice of Sacrifice

A Call to Fortify Our Defenders

n the unforgiving crucible of duty, tragedy has once again cast its cruel shadow over our indomitable Armed Forces. A heartwrenching incident has pierced our hearts-a calamity that claimed the lives of nine valiant Army personnel, including a steadfast Junior Commissioned Officer, in a vehicular mishap at Kiari in Nyoma, Leh district, the Union Territory of Ladakh. This poignant moment stands as a stark testament to the perilous challenges that mark the arduous path of defending our borders along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) with China in Ladakh-a theater etched with the relentless strain of Sino-Indian tensions that have endured for over three relentless years. In this reverberating tragedy, a clarion call resounds-a call that encapsulates the daunting challenges and unwavering resolve of our gallant soldiers. To underestimate the unforgiving trials they brave from the confines of comfort is a grave oversight. The very ground they tread, replete with treacherous precipices, permits no room for misjudgment; a single misstep can plunge them into irrevocable loss. In spite of the strides in infrastructural enhancements-crafted with cutting-edge technologies. tunnels, and bridges-to elevate road conditions, this incident resonates with an unyielding truth: the austere landscape brooks no compromise. Our soldiers, who pledge their lives in steadfast defense, confront perils that stand as immutable elements of their sacred duty. While airborne expeditions may be employed to reach remote bastions, the necessity for reconnaissance mandates a ground-based approacha reality tragically underscored by the lamentable events that unfolded in Nyoma. The weight of so many lives lost in an instant bears down upon us with unvielding force-an agonizing reminder of the dire need for impervious safety standards that safequard the vehicles entrusted to our intrepid military. The value of every life, a gem beyond measure, demands unwavering security measures that shield them from catastrophic loss. Road mishaps, however, constitute just one facet of the manifold hazards our warriors confront daily. As they stand unwavering at their posts, they battle avalanches, wrestle with the whims of extreme climates, and navigate altitudes that test human limits. Resilience courses through their veins; their allegiance to the nation remains steadfast, unswayed by the trials they endure. Our nation stands indebted to these noble souls—a debt beyond words, demanding tangible action. The mantle of responsibility falls squarely upon the Government-a responsibility to provide our defenders with cuttingedge equipment, unwavering support, and an environment conducive to executing their duties with precision, even in the most formidable conditions. Their valor and selflessness demand nothing less than our boundless admiration and unequivocal support. In the wake of this heart-rending catastrophe, an unflinching investigation is imperativea quest to unearth truth, confront causative factors, and preclude the specter of such sorrow from casting its shadow anew. Scrutinizing elements that range from the driver's experience to duty-hour protocols. this inquiry seeks to uncover potential human-related factors that may have conspired in this tragic event. Identifying vulnerabilities within our safety framework stands paramount-a foundation on which our future safeguards rest. Amidst the throes of anguish, the burden of leadership takes on profound dimensions-a burden to provide solace and succor to the bereaved families of our valiant soldiers. A united military functions as a familial unit, and when comrades are lost in the crucible of a single catastrophe, the agony resonates collectively. In these moments of trial, it falls upon leadership to bolster unit morale-a beacon guiding them through tumultuous waters. The Ladakh tragedy resounds as an unwavering summons-an appeal not merely to mourn, but to stand unwavering in our commitment. As a nation, we pledge to empower our defenders, to honor their sacrifices with resolute dedication, and to buttress our forces with an unyielding commitment to security and support. Their valour is our collective fortitude, their sacrifices an embodiment of our shared purpose.

Reinventing Congress: Reconstituted CWC reflects a bid for change

he winds of change are spirit.

sweeping through the corridors of the Indian National Congress as the party takes a significant step towards redefining its identity and strategies. The reconstitution of the Congress Working Committee (CWC) not only signifies a renewal of leadership but also reflects the party's earnest endeavour to revitalize itself ahead of the impending electoral battles. This transformation, marked by the inclusion of fresh faces and the infusion of diverse perspectives, points towards a resolute effort to break free from stagnation and infuse new life into the grand old party of Indian poli-

President Mallikarjun Kharge's decision to reshape the CWC holds deeper significance. By incorporating members associated with the G23 group, the party exhibits a willingness to embrace diverse perspectives and promote collective decisionmaking at the highest echelons. However, the real litmus test lies in whether this newfound inclusion translates into a substantive shift in the party's decision-making dynamics or remains confined to a symbolic gesture.

The reconstituted CWC, while commendable, raises questions about the depth of change within a party that has long been synonymous with the Gandhi family's leadership. Breaking away from this entrenched tradition presents a unique challenge, yet it also signifies the party's conscious efforts to explore new avenues. The Congress faces a pressing need to reinvigorate its ideological commitment and strategic acumen, effectively bridging the gap between its historical roots and the evolving demands of a dynamic nation. The current void in the party's intellectual and spiritual fabric has been growing for years, reflected in its prolonged absence from power in states like Tamil Nadu, West Bengal, and Gujarat. The writing on the wall is clear – a fundamental reevaluation of approach and ideology is necessary to recapture the hearts of the electorate. The reconstituted CWC, if willing to confront this deep-seated challenge head-on, could herald a transformation that goes beyond party lines, impacting the national political landscape.

The induction of prominent figures such as Dr. Shashi Tharoor and Anand Sharma into the committee suggests a readiness to engage in deeper discussions on both ideological and operational fronts. Traditionally, ideological principles have been passed down through generations, but the true test lies in how the party addresses practical challenges posed by a rapidly evolving political landscape. The reconstituted CWC is expected to navigate these challenges while fostering an environment conducive to dissent and innovative thinking.

One of the critical aspects of this transformation involves a flexible approach towards state units. Lessons should be learned from instances like Punjab and Delhi, where central leadership's alliances clashed with local preferences. Prioritizing intra-party unity is paramount, as demonstrated by the inclusion of Rajesh Pilot in the CWC, reflecting a willingness to accommodate diverse voices. The impending assembly elections, set to unfold within a few months, will serve as a testing ground for the Congress's efforts at reinvention. The party's performance in key states like Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Rajasthan, Telangana, and Mizoram will have far-reaching implications for its ambitions and its role in the 2024 parliamentary elections. Successfully bridging the generational and ideological gaps remains a challenge, and Kharge's balancing act demonstrates his commitment to maintaining unity within the party's ranks.

While the rejuvenation of the CWC holds promise, certain choices have been met with disappointment. The retention of figures like former Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh and former Union Minister A.K. Antony, who are essentially retired from active politics, raises questions about the committee's dynamism. Concerns also arise about regional representation, with Kerala seemingly overrepresented compared to Andhra and Telangana.

As the Congress prepares to lead the newly formed INDIA alliance against a formidable government in the Lok Sabha, it must navigate complex political terrains skillfully. Balancing alliances and competition in states like West Bengal, Kerala, Punjab, and Delhi will be pivotal. Additionally, the party faces challenges in states like Maharashtra, where alliance partners' vulnerability to the BJP's influence poses a unique

Lunar Triumph

The Indian Space Research Organisation's (ISRO) Lander Chandrayaan-3 Module (LM) achieved an extraordinary feat, marking India's successful soft landing on the Moon's surface on August 23. This monumental achievement, following its launch on July 14, places India as the fourth nation, alongside the USSR, U.S., and China, to achieve this milestone. The event signifies a transformative moment for India in space exploration, particularly with its pioneering touchdown on the uncharted lunar south pole. Chandrayaan-3's success not only enhances India's image but also ignites scientific curiosity among students. Immediately Chandrayaan-3 soft landing, NASA Administrator Bill Nelson's congratulatory note to India "congratulations to #India on being the 4th country to successfully soft-land a spacecraft on the Moon. We're glad to be your partner on this mission!" While celebrations abound, it's important not to overshadow the scientific accomplishments by excessively exuberant displays of patriotism. Chandravaan-3 rectifies past errors, setting the stage for comprehensive lunar research.

India's Lunar Feat

India's historic feat as the first nation to land on the Moon's South Pole stands as a testament to innovation. Overcoming harsh conditions, this accomplishment showcases the determination of both scientists and the government. The resilience shown after a previous setback speaks volumes, with the Prime Minister's encouragement fueling their pursuit of excellence. This triumph ISN'T JUST ADOUT GAINS AND JOSS es: it's a stride towards human advancement. Amidst the BRICS conference, the PM's assurance that this victory benefits global society emphasizes its humanitarian significance. ISRO's achievement not only eases upcoming missions but also taps into the Moon's ice-water deposits for fuel. This remarkable leap brings immortal value, resonating with human welfare. As the Indian political landscape prepares for the challenges of the forthcoming elections, the revamped CWC emerges as a strategic move by the Congress to reposition itself in the hearts and minds of the people. The party's inability to secure a Leader of Opposition role in the Lok Sabha, a reflection of its underwhelming performance, serves as a poignant reminder of the urgency for change. This restructuring is more than just a symbolic gesture; it is a deliberate attempt to shake off the cobwebs of complacency and rejuvenate the Congress's ideological t- set of obstacles.

The absence of Rahul Gandhi during the CWC reconstitution process in Ladakh suggests an effort by the Gandhi family to grant the President and the CWC greater autonomy. However, skepticism prevails regarding the extent of this change, given the historical dominance of the family. For the Congress to reap electoral rewards, the reconstituted CWC must wield the power to think and act collectively unshackled from the limitations of the past. The journey towards transformation is underway; only time will reveal the true extent of the party's metamorphosis.

Dr. Satyawan Saurabh

Introduction:

India, once known for its diverse symbolism as the land of both serpents and sages, has now solidified its position among the global space technology leaders. This accomplishment comes as India achieves the remarkable feat of being the fourth nation to achieve a soft lunar landing with its Chandrayaan-3 mission. Nestled within the spacecraft, the Chandrayaan-3 rover is poised to explore the lunar surface. The mission duration of the lander is anticipated to span a single lunar day, equivalent to 14 Earth days. In contrast to the previous crash landing, India has now joined the ranks of the United States, Russia, and China in this historic achievement. This feat not only underscores India's expanding space expertise but also marks the pioneering instance of landing at the South Pole region.

Nationwide Celebration

India's space agency has effectively showcased the nation's prowess in space exploration and burgeoning space commerce by successfully landing a rover, Chandrayaan-3, on the Moon. Crafted on a relatively modest budget of under $75 million, the Chandrayaan-3 mission has realized the aspirations of 1.4 billion Indians. This achievement, the culmination of widespread anticipation, has ignited celebrations across the nation. The anxieties that lingered from the previous mission were dispelled, and the collective joy of the Indian populace blossomed upon the rover's lunar touch.

Joining the Elite Lunar Explorers

India's triumphant mission propels it into an exclusive consortium of nations-comprising the United States, the former Soviet Union, and China-that have achieved soft landings on the Moon. Recent attempts by other nations faced challenges, such as a Japanese start-up's miscalculated landing altitude leading to a crash and an Israeli spacecraft's unfortunate lunar surface contact. Following the deployment of an orbiter in the Chandrayaan-2 mission, India succeeded in landing the lander and rover, thereby making strides toward its lunar exploration ambitions. This latest endeavour, Chandrayaan-3, aims to explore the Moon's permanently shadowed craters believed to hold water reserves

Meticulous Planning

Chandrayaan-3 comprises a 2meter-long lander engineered to deploy a rover near the Moon's South Pole-a location where water ice has been detected. The rover is expected to conduct experiments during its two-week operational period. Solar power will fuel Chandrayaan-3's lander and rover throughout their lunar mission, accounting for the Moon's 14-day daynight cycle. Precise calculations guided the mission's timing, ensuring the South Pole region would be sunlit between August 23 and September 5, enabling the rover's charging and scientific activities.

Driving Private Investment and Space Commerce

The Indian Space Research Organization's launch reflects the nation's growing stature as a formidable player in space exploration and commerce. Prime Minister Narendra Modi's policies aimed at boosting investment in private space endeavours have spurred the growth of space startups since 2020. India's expanding space operations, including the successful launch of its privately developed rocket Vikram-S in November 2022, underscore its role as a significant commercial space contributor. India's aspiration to increase its global launch market share fivefold within a decade indicates a strategic pursuit to establish itself as a space industry leader.

India's accomplishment in soft lunar landing with Chandrayaan-3 not only solidifies its position among the leading spacefaring nations but also marks a pivotal stride toward unlocking the mysteries of the Moon's uncharted territories. This achievement stands as a testament to India's unwavering dedication to scientific exploration and technological innovation, ushering the nation onto the global stage as a trailblazer in space exploration.

India, US looking at ending poultry dispute at WTO

Jaipur, Aug 24:

After mutually resolving six trade disputes with the US at the World Trade Organization (WTO), New Delhi and Washington are now trying to engage in ending their last pending dispute over poultry products, a senior government official said on Thursday. In July, India and the US mutually resolved six trade disputes pending at the WTO, in line with the commitment made by the two countries during the US visit of Prime Minister Narendra Modi in June.

The six disputes include three initiated by India and as many by the US. The official said that now the two countries have resolved six out of seven trade disputes, and "we are trying to resolve the seventh also". This matter

During Modi's US visit in June, a joint statement stated that the prime minister had expressed India's interest towards being recognized as a Trade Agreements Act-designated country by the US to further enhance the integration of both economies and promote bilateral trade and investment. In this regard, the two sides have welcomed the initiation of discussions at an official level on issues related to bilateral government procurement. "We also want to be part of their process, they also want us to be a part of our process," the official added.

The six trade disputes which were resolved included a complaint by India against the US with regard to the imposition of countervailing duties on certain hot rolled carbon steel flat products from India. On September 9, 2016, India filed a case against the US pertaining to domestic content requirements and subsidies instituted by the governments of states of Washington, California, Montana, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Michigan, Delaware and Minnesota, in the energy sector.

Another dispute filed by the US against India was related to domestic content requirements under the Jawaharlal Nehru National Solar Mission for solar cells and solar modules. In 2018, the US filed a case against India's alleged export subsidy measures. Similarly, on July 3, 2019, the US filed a dispute against New Delhi on imposition of additional duties with respect to certain products originating in the US. The poultry case was filed by the US against India in the WTO in 2012. India has lost the dispute both at the panel as well as the appellate body levels. It was ruled against India that New Delhi's ban on imports of poultry products from the US was inconsistent with global norms.

Mumbai, Aug 24:

The rupee appreciated by 14 paise to settle at 82.58 (provisional) against the US dollar on Thursday, marking its third straight day of gains on the back of softening crude oil prices and foreign funds inflows. The upward trend in the past three sessions led to a gain of 55 paise in the Indian currency, rebounding from its all-time low level of 83.11 against the greenback witnessed on Monday. According to reports, the rupee's sharp gain was attributed to the Reserve Bank of India's move to prevent banks from short-term trading in offshore currency markets. The cautious move by investors ahead of the BRICS summit and US Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell's speech at the Jackson Hole Symposium restricted the upward movement of the dollar even as negative sentiment in the domestic equity markets weighed on the Indian currency, forex analysts said.

Office space leasing may fall 20 pc to 40 mn sq ft this yr across six major cities: Colliers against US dollar New Delhi, Aug 24:

> Leasing of office space may fall by 20 per cent to 40 million square feet this calendar year across six major cities with corporates making a delay in taking decision regarding their expansion plan, according to Colliers India. In its report 'India office market - Changing winds' released on Thursday, real estate consultant Colliers India has estimated that the gross leasing of office space at 40-45 million square feet in the 2023 calendar year as against 50.3 million square feet in the previous year.

During the first six months of this year, the gross leasing of office space stood at 24.7 million square feet. In the second half, it expects demand to be at 15.3-20.3 million square feet, lower than the first half. Gross absorption does not include lease renewals, pre-commitments and deals where only a Letter of Intent has been signed. Collier said that India's office sector is expected to close stronger at 40-45 million square feet of gross leasing across the top six markets in 2023, perceptibly higher than predicted in March this year. "Domestic office demand is holding up well, supported by resilient economic outlook in spite of the drag from weak external demand," the consultant said. The year started on a cautious note registering 10.1 million square feet of gross absorption in the first quarter, and then saw a relatively faster recovery in second quarter. the During April-June, the leasing stood at 14.6 million square feet, a growth of 46 per cent quarter-on-

quarter. Across six major cities Colliers India has pegged the gross leasing of office space in Bengaluru at 12 14 million square feet, Delhi-NCR 9-11 million square feet and Chennai 7-9 million square feet. In Hyderabad, Mumbai and Pune, the absorption of office space is likely to remain in the range of 4-6 million sq ft each. The year 2023 is likely to see a robust supply aligned with the anticipated space uptake across major office markets, vacancy levels to be range-bound leading to a potential rental upside, the consultant said.

Focus on KL Rahul's fitness as India gear up for Asia Cup

Bengaluru, Aug 24:

India's Asia-Cup-bound squad have started reaching Bengaluru for a 6-day conditioning camp that starts on Thursday at the Karnataka State Cricket Association's campus in Bengaluru as reported by ESPNcricinfo.

The camp intends to act as a team-building exer-cise before the focus moves to the final stages of World Cup preparation, with players' fitness levels-particularly those who just returned from the Caribbean—being a significant focus area.

Many players will undergo fitness assessments followed by a few indoor sessions on the opening day at the KSCA's Three Ovals campus in Alur, Bengaluru. For the skillbased and outdoor conditioning regimens, athletes will be divided into batches starting on Friday.

It will be really interesting to see how India opener KL Rahul pulls up. Though Rahul have picked up a minor niggle, making him doubtful for at least the first two Asia Cup games even though he has fully re-covered from a thigh ailment for which he underwent surgery and extensive rehabilitation at the NCA. The news was confirmed by India chief selector Ajit Agarkar at the press conference to announce the squads on Monday. Rahul picked up a niggle unrelated to his pre-by reported As ESPNcricinfo, Rahul's batting workload is thought to have pleased the NCA medical staff, but they are closely watching his wicketkeeping workload; he is thought to have complained of soreness following one of the practice matches the NCA hosted last week.

Meanwhile, the strong contender for the fourth position in the batting order, Shreyas Iyer, is believed to be fully fit and ready to go. Iyer's back troubles saw him miss cricketing action since March.

Iyer's return to the national side is extremely good news for Men in Blue, who are looking towards him and Rahul to provide stability to the team's middle order, which was filled by likes of Ishan Kishan, Suryakumar Yadav, Axar Patel, Sanju Samson etc in their absence. He will be looking to fill up the number four position.

Treesa-Gayatri bow out of World Championships

Copenhagen, Aug 24:

Indian women's doubles pair of Treesa Jolly and Gayatri Gopichand fought hard before going down in straight games to top seeded Chinese duo of Chen Qing Chen and Jia Yi Fan in the pre-quarterfinals of the World Championships Copenhagen on Thursday.

World number 19 Gayatri and Treesa, who reached the semifinals of the All England Championships in the last two editions, couldn't sustain the attack against their muchfancied rival and lost 14-21, 9-21 in 42 minutes.

It was only the second meeting between the two pairs with the Indians having lost to the world number one Chinese at the German Open last year. Chen and Jia are three-time gold medallist at the World Championships and have won three BWF titles and finished runner-up twice this season.

The Commonwealth Games bronze winners, who had received a bye in the first round, had a positive start leading 5-2 with the two managing the length to keep up the attack on the Chinese. Treesa and Gayatri moved well and played some good rallies but their experienced opponents managed to grab four straight points to make it 6-6.

Two superb service from Jia left the Indians stranded as the Chinese entered the break with a 11-7 lead.

Treesa played a fine drop from the back court after resumption but the Chinese remained patient with Jia showing great interception. A precise placement from Treesa took India to 10-14. However, Chen and Jia looked in complete control and reached 17-10 with the former playing a terrific forehand cross court.

A long shot from Gayatri handed 8 game points to the Chinese, who squandered two of them before Jia unleashed a smash to seal the issue.

In the second game, Chen was called for a service fault but Jia more than made up with her superb flick serves bamboozling the Indians. Chen also produced a barrage of attack as the Chinese moved to 7-1. With the Indians spraying into the net few times, China grabbed 10-2 before Chen unleashed a powerful smash.

Treesa and Gayatri kept fighting to grab three points after resumption but the Chinese rode on their anticipation and execution to keep moving ahead to 14-7 and eventually grabbed 11 match points and converted in first attempt.

Budapest, Aug 24 (AP):

Katie Moon wanted to split the gold. Nina Kennedy wanted to split the gold, too.

The pole vaulters knew that was possible, thanks to a pair of high jumpers who turned their tie at the Olympics two years ago into a feel-good moment where everyone walked away a winner. Moon and Kennedy did the same thing Wednesday night at world championships, cementing their friendship by agreeing to split the title after finishing in a tie for first place.

"I kind of looked at her and said, 'Hey girl, you maybe want to share this?" Kennedy recounted.

Moon did. She definitely did. ' "What an amazing night," Moon said. "I hope everyone enjoyed that one." They can thank Mutaz Essa Barshim (Qatar) and Gianmarco Tamberi (Italy) for the idea. Two years ago at the Tokyo Olympics, they paved the way to splitting a title when they finished deadlocked in the high jump. Thiruvananthapuram, Aug  $\mathbf{24}$ (PTI): Chandrayaan 3's success will further boost India's international commercial contracts as there will be acceptance of its technical competence and launch systems, former ISRO chief G Madhavan Nair said here on Thursday.

Nair said the success of Chandrayaan-3 is the first stepping stone to begin India's planetary explorations.

"We have really broken the ice and made a good beginning," he told PTI.

The former ISRO Chairman said the country already has several commercial contracts with Europe and America, and this will grow now with the success of the third lunar mission on August 23.

He said the scientists at ISRO could achieve this through careful planning and long-term vision.

Thiruvananthapuram, Aug 24 (PTI): Buoyed by successful India's Chandrayaan-3 lunar mission, former ISRO chairman G Madhavan Nair said the scientists at space agency have achieved this historic success by getting a salary one-fifth of the scientists in the developed world.

According to him, the low wages for the scientists at ISRO are one of the reasons why they could find low-cost solutions for space exploration.

"The wages paid to the scientists, technicians, and other staff at ISRO are hardly one-fifth of what is given globally. So that gives an advantage,"

Nair told PTI while talking about the Indian space agency's history of exploring space at very low expenses. He said there are no

He said India uses home-grown technology for its space missions, and that helped them reduce the cost considerably. He said the space mission costs of India are 50 to 60 percent lower compared to the space missions of other countries.

Nair said the success of Chandrayaan-3 is the first stepping stone to begin India's planetary explorations.

'We have really broken the ice and made a good beginning," he said.

As per World Health Organization (WHO) data, cancer is the second leading cause of death globally, accounting for an estimated 9.6 million fatalities, which is nearly one in every six deaths in 2018. Globally, the burden of cancer is still increasing, exerting enormous physical, psychological, and financial strain on people, families, communities, and health systems. Cancer is a disease that happens when some of the cells in your body start growing and multiplying uncontrollably. Normally, our body's cells grow, divide, and eventually die in a controlled manner, which helps keep our body functioning properly. But in cancer, something goes wrong with this process. It's important to detect and treat cancer early, as many treatment options are available to help

comes. In order to achieve controlled delivery of anti-cancer drug, intelligent drug delivery vehicles must be designed. This is essential for delivering anticancer drugs to enhance the effectiveness of treatment while minimizing potential side effects. Although there are some drug delivery vehicles available, mostly it is tough to translate these phenomenon/materials into devices for biomedical use due to their limited payload capacity, high cost and lack of target specificity.

Researchers at IIT Bhilai, led by Dr. Sanjib Banerjee from the Department of Chemistry, have developed a "smart material for controlled delivery of anticancer drug". The material is developed via a simple and cost-effective "industry friendly" process and enables controlled release of anti-cancer drug. This promising material will be further evaluated to Jevelop intelligent arug ery device for biomedical use. This work has been published in JACS Au, an internationally reputed journal. The research is supported by the IIT Bhilai, DSIR, Govt. of India and SERB, Govt. of India.

Mungeli, Aug 24: The Mungeli streets of Municipality are grappling with a mounting concern as the presence of stray cattle becomes increasingly prominent. Roaming freely through main intersections, bustling markets, and pivotal city zones, these untethered animals underscore a significant issue. The municipality is grappling with a lack of dedicated infrastructure to accommodate these wandering creatures, lacking both a cattle pound and designated shelters.

wandering cattle. The prevailing void in proactive measures to avert such incidents raises concerns. Historically, sporadic endeavours have been undertaken to curtail the proliferation of stray animals, yielding temporary reprieves from the issue. Regrettably, the Gol Bazaar Vegetable Market vicinity has transformed into a temporary shelter for these wandering creatures. Instances of conflicts between bulls and cows further compound the predicament, fostering potentially hazardous situations.

Even in prominent zones like the newly constructed bridge and Daupara Chowk, groups of cattle are becoming a familiar sight. While the municipality does possess mechanisms for capturing these strays, the absence of adequate facilities for their containment remains an obstacle. A prevailing approach involves releasing the captured animals into neighboring villages or fields, a solution that often culminates in their swift return to the city's precincts.

The Dantewada assembly seat is considered the stronghold of the Karma family. Mahendra Karma's wife Devati Karma had won from here in the year 2013, but she was defeated in 2018. The biggest reason for the defeat was considered to be the dispute between mother and son over the ticket. Due to not getting ticket from Congress. Chhabindra Karma had entered the election field against his mother Devati Karma. Later, after the persuasion of the party, he backed down. Naxalites had killed Bhima Mandavi just a few days after the election. After which the by-election was held in Dantewada. # Forgiveness is The Best Revenge : Michhami Dukkadam

Dr. Arvind Neral, Professor & H.O.D. Department of Pathology, Pt. J.N.M. Medical College, Raipur.

.an ancient Indian Prakrit language phrase, found in historic Jain texts. It's a word of the Ardhamaagdhi language (language spoken during the time of Lord Mahavir). It's Sanskrit equivalent is "Mithya me duskrtam" and both the evil that has been done be in vain." It is used widely for the Pratikkramana ritual on the last day of called Paryushana in the Samvatsari Svetambara and Kshamavani in the Digambara tradition. The phrase is alternatively interpreted and said to mean, "may all my improper actions be inconsequential or "I ask pardon of all living being, may all of them pardon me, may I have friendship with all beings and enmity with

i c h h a m i none." As a matter of Dukkadam is ritual, they great their friends and relatives with "Michhami Dukkadam", seeking their forgiveness.

A lack of forgiveness comes manv in forms...unexpected breakups, family trauma or betrayal of any kind easily cause resentment to take root in our hearts. It can be unimaginably hard task to choose to let go of past hurts and begin to heal, but decision to forgive will ultimately lead to a happier and more fulfilling life. It's important to understand that deciding to forgive doesn't mean you're dismissing or justifying the pain someone has caused you; it will however create space in your mind and heart for true joy.

There is no love withforgiveness and out

there is no forgiveness without love. It's a powerful expression of love within our soul. Martin Luthar King Jr. said -"We must develop and maintain the capacity to forgive. He who is devoid of the power to forgive is devoid of power to love" It takes a strong person to say they're sorry and even stronger person to forgive. The weak can never forgive, it's the attribute of the strong. Without forgiveness life is governed by endless cycle of resentment and retaliation. It's above all a personal choice, a decision of the heart to go against natural instinct to pay back evil. Forgive is a sign that the person who has wronged you means more to you than the wrong they have dealt.

Forgiveness is a conscious internal process and deliberate decision to let go the grudge towards individuals. This includes releasing the thoughts and feelings of resentment, anger, bitterness and the desires for revenge, punishment and retribution towards group or someone ; who we believe has harmed us. Being able to forgive is on the healthiest emotions in the universe. By forgiving we don't forgive the person who did something wrong but we forgive ourselves. Infact, forgiveness is the sweetest revenge. Mastering the art of forgiveness plays a crucial role in happiness and quality of our life. It's a precious gift we give to ourselves. People are illogical, unreasonable and selfcentered. If you do good, people will accuse you of selfish ulterior motives. Do good and love them anyway. If you are successful, you will win false friends and true enemies. The good you do today will be forgotten tomorrow. Do good and succeed anyway. Honesty and forgiveness make you vulnerable. If you find serenity and happiness, others may be jealous. Be honest, frank and happy anyway. Forgiveness is not a feeling ; it is a commitment. It is a choice to show mercy, not to hold the offence up against the offender. It's an expression of love and compassion. It may not change the past, but it does make the future more fruitfull and bright.

Along with this, a framework was prepared regarding the migration of MLAs of Odisha to Bastar. Giving information about this,

BJP District President Roop Singh Mandavi said that BJP MLA Niyanand Gond, who came from Odisha, will be taken to Bastar Vidhan Sabha, Nauri Navak to Chitrakot Vidhan Sabha and Subhash Pani Grahi to Jagdalpur Vidhan Sabha. After assessing the condition of the organization by taking a meeting of the workers, a strategy will be prepared to ensure BJP's victory and to remove the shortcomings. He said that every worker is determined to hoist the BJP's victory in all the assembly seats of the district.

UK minister eyes doubling trade with India by 2030 with new campaign

London, Aug 24 (PTI):

UK Business and Trade Secretary Kemi Badenoch launched a new "Alive with Opportunity" campaign on Thursday to help double trade with India by 2030, with a series of targeted trade missions for UK firms in high growth sectors.

The Cabinet minister, who arrived in India on a three-day visit to attend the G20 Trade and Investment Ministerial Meeting in Jaipur and hold bilateral talks with Commerce and Industry Minister Pivush Goval in New Delhi, said she hoped to further the ongoing free and we both share an am-trade agreement (FTA) negotiations now in their twelfth round of negotiations.

Additionally, the new GBP 1.5-million "GREAT" marketing blitz is aimed at going beyond the strong bilateral business and trade links to highlight shared cultural interests from football and cricket, to food and film.

"I'm delighted to be returning to India to support their G20 Presidency, further our trade talks and meet key business leaders," Badenoch said on the eve of her visit.

"The UK and India have a thriving relationship bition to deepen our cultural and trading ties.

India is the UK's second biggest source of investment projects and I'm confident this new campaign will help boost interest in and demand for UK goods and services even further," she said.

While at the G20 trade the meet, UK's Department for Business and Trade (DBT) said the minister will pitch for greater deployment of digital trade, which will cut red tape and make it easier for UK businesses of all sizes to buy and sell internationally.

Her visit coincides with Round 12 of the FTA talks being hosted by New Delhi and her meeting with Goyal will "take stock" of negotiations and agree how to progress a deal, which is expected to boost bilateral trade already worth GBP 36 billion in 2022

Death of a Maverick

Yevgeny Prigozhin's Enigmatic Demise nfurl the somber banner, for the titanic realm of Russia stands awash in intrigue and consternation as news of the ill-fated crash claims none other than Yevgeny Prigozhin, the indomitable chieftain of the Wagner mercenary cohort. Mere eight weeks past his audacious bid to seize the helm of authority from the army's top brass, Prigozhin met an untimely end, his life extinguished amidst the northern reaches of Moscow. The sepulchral event casts an impenetrable shroud over the nation, leaving no survivors in its wake. Behold the Kremlin's sphinx-like demeanour and the Defense Ministry's vault of silence, withholding the official anointing of truth regarding Prigozhin's fate. A vociferous adversary of the army's leadership, he denounced their perceived mishandling of Russia's foray into the Ukrainian theater. Now, he is consigned to an eerie silence, leaving a chasm of speculation in his wake. Yet the Grey Zone, a steadfast ally of the Wagner group, reverberates with a bold decree - they declare Prigozhin's demise, immortalizing him as a heroic patriot, fallen at the hands of shadowy "traitors to Russia." As the void of certainty expands, conjectures breed like tempestuous squalls. Some accusatory fingers point to the very bosom of the Russian state, insinuating a web of intrigue and insurrection. Others direct their gaze toward Ukraine, poised on the cusp of independence celebration, implicating it in this bewildering tragedy. In the gathering dusk, the edifice that houses Wagner's sanctum in St. Petersburg assumes a reverent stance, its illuminated windows crafting a resplendent cross - an eloquent requiem to honor the fallen. The reverberations of Prigozhin's exit resonate deep within the ranks of the Wagner Group, an assemblage that drew the ire of President Vladimir Putin himself, igniting with its abortive coup against the army's top echelons. His departure creates a cavernous void, one that questions the group's venturesome forays across African terrains and far-flung territories. This absence is more than administrative it is symbolic, signifying the cessation of a chapter that dared challenge Putin's dominion, a rarity since his ascension in 1999. Rosaviatsia, the sentinel of Russian aviation, etches into the annals the names of the ten souls embarked on that ill-fated flight, a list adorned with the luminous legacy of Prigozhin and his lieutenant, Dmitry Utkin, the very architect of the Wagner saga. In the wake of this calamity, Russian inquisitors spearhead a relentless quest to unearth the concealed truths. Whispers murmur of surface-to-air missiles that orchestrated the plane's fall from grace, yet such conjectures remain mere phantoms, their substantiation elusive as a mirage. The intended voyage from Moscow to St. Petersburg was ruthlessly truncated, the plane's final resting place near the village of Kuzhenkino now a mournful monument of despair. As the investigation unfurls its enigma and the nation bows its head in grief, Russia finds itself grappling with a void of profound proportions. Yevgeny Prigozhin's inexplicable demise renders not just the Wagner Group bereft, but it also punctuates the very fabric of Russia's contemporary chronicle. In the countenance of this enigma, the nation stands resolute, demanding elucidation. The fall of a man who sowed dissent resonates not merely within inked columns, but within corridors of power, hearts that dared question, and the quintessence of a nation navigating uncharted territory in a post-Prigozhin epoch.

n the unforgiving crucible of duty, tragedy has once again cast its cruel shadow over our indomitable Armed Forces. A heartwrenching incident has pierced our hearts-a calamity that claimed the lives of nine valiant Army personnel, including a steadfast Junior Commissioned Officer, in a vehicular mishap at Kiari in Nyoma, Leh district, the Union Territory of Ladakh. This poignant moment stands as a stark testament to the perilous challenges that mark the arduous path of defending our borders along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) with China in Ladakh-a theater etched with the relentless strain of Sino-Indian tensions that have endured for over three relentless years. In this reverberating tragedy, a clarion call resounds-a call that encapsulates the daunting challenges and unwavering resolve of our gallant soldiers. To underestimate the unforgiving trials they brave from the confines of comfort is a grave oversight. The very ground they tread, replete with treacherous precipices, permits no room for misjudgment; a single misstep can plunge them into irrevocable loss. In spite of the strides in infrastructural enhancements-crafted with cutting-edge technologies. tunnels, and bridges-to elevate road conditions, this incident resonates with an unyielding truth: the austere landscape brooks no compromise. Our soldiers, who pledge their lives in steadfast defense, confront perils that stand as immutable elements of their sacred duty. While airborne expeditions may be employed to reach remote bastions, the necessity for reconnaissance mandates a ground-based approacha reality tragically underscored by the lamentable events that unfolded in Nyoma. The weight of so many lives lost in an instant bears down upon us with unvielding force-an agonizing reminder of the dire need for impervious safety standards that safequard the vehicles entrusted to our intrepid military. The value of every life, a gem beyond measure, demands unwavering security measures that shield them from catastrophic loss. Road mishaps, however, constitute just one facet of the manifold hazards our warriors confront daily. As they stand unwavering at their posts, they battle avalanches, wrestle with the whims of extreme climates, and navigate altitudes that test human limits. Resilience courses through their veins; their allegiance to the nation remains steadfast, unswayed by the trials they endure. Our nation stands indebted to these noble souls—a debt beyond words, demanding tangible action. The mantle of responsibility falls squarely upon the Government-a responsibility to provide our defenders with cuttingedge equipment, unwavering support, and an environment conducive to executing their duties with precision, even in the most formidable conditions. Their valor and selflessness demand nothing less than our boundless admiration and unequivocal support. In the wake of this heart-rending catastrophe, an unflinching investigation is imperativea quest to unearth truth, confront causative factors, and preclude the specter of such sorrow from casting its shadow anew. Scrutinizing elements that range from the driver's experience to duty-hour protocols. this inquiry seeks to uncover potential human-related factors that may have conspired in this tragic event. Identifying vulnerabilities within our safety framework stands paramount-a foundation on which our future safeguards rest. Amidst the throes of anguish, the burden of leadership takes on profound dimensions-a burden to provide solace and succor to the bereaved families of our valiant soldiers. A united military functions as a familial unit, and when comrades are lost in the crucible of a single catastrophe, the agony resonates collectively. In these moments of trial, it falls upon leadership to bolster unit morale-a beacon guiding them through tumultuous waters. The Ladakh tragedy resounds as an unwavering summons-an appeal not merely to mourn, but to stand unwavering in our commitment. As a nation, we pledge to empower our defenders, to honor their sacrifices with resolute dedication, and to buttress our forces with an unyielding commitment to security and support. Their valour is our collective fortitude, their sacrifices an embodiment of our shared purpose.

he winds of change are spirit.

sweeping through the corridors of the Indian National Congress as the party takes a significant step towards redefining its identity and strategies. The reconstitution of the Congress Working Committee (CWC) not only signifies a renewal of leadership but also reflects the party's earnest endeavour to revitalize itself ahead of the impending electoral battles. This transformation, marked by the inclusion of fresh faces and the infusion of diverse perspectives, points towards a resolute effort to break free from stagnation and infuse new life into the grand old party of Indian poli-

President Mallikarjun Kharge's decision to reshape the CWC holds deeper significance. By incorporating members associated with the G23 group, the party exhibits a willingness to embrace diverse perspectives and promote collective decisionmaking at the highest echelons. However, the real litmus test lies in whether this newfound inclusion translates into a substantive shift in the party's decision-making dynamics or remains confined to a symbolic gesture.

The reconstituted CWC, while commendable, raises questions about the depth of change within a party that has long been synonymous with the Gandhi family's leadership. Breaking away from this entrenched tradition presents a unique challenge, yet it also signifies the party's conscious efforts to explore new avenues. The Congress faces a pressing need to reinvigorate its ideological commitment and strategic acumen, effectively bridging the gap between its historical roots and the evolving demands of a dynamic nation. The current void in the party's intellectual and spiritual fabric has been growing for years, reflected in its prolonged absence from power in states like Tamil Nadu, West Bengal, and Gujarat. The writing on the wall is clear – a fundamental reevaluation of approach and ideology is necessary to recapture the hearts of the electorate. The reconstituted CWC, if willing to confront this deep-seated challenge head-on, could herald a transformation that goes beyond party lines, impacting the national political landscape.

The induction of prominent figures such as Dr. Shashi Tharoor and Anand Sharma into the committee suggests a readiness to engage in deeper discussions on both ideological and operational fronts. Traditionally, ideological principles have been passed down through generations, but the true test lies in how the party addresses practical challenges posed by a rapidly evolving political landscape. The reconstituted CWC is expected to navigate these challenges while fostering an environment conducive to dissent and innovative thinking.

One of the critical aspects of this transformation involves a flexible approach towards state units. Lessons should be learned from instances like Punjab and Delhi, where central leadership's alliances clashed with local preferences. Prioritizing intra-party unity is paramount, as demonstrated by the inclusion of Rajesh Pilot in the CWC, reflecting a willingness to accommodate diverse voices. The impending assembly elections, set to unfold within a few months, will serve as a testing ground for the Congress's efforts at reinvention. The party's performance in key states like Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Rajasthan, Telangana, and Mizoram will have far-reaching implications for its ambitions and its role in the 2024 parliamentary elections. Successfully bridging the generational and ideological gaps remains a challenge, and Kharge's balancing act demonstrates his commitment to maintaining unity within the party's ranks.

While the rejuvenation of the CWC holds promise, certain choices have been met with disappointment. The retention of figures like former Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh and former Union Minister A.K. Antony, who are essentially retired from active politics, raises questions about the committee's dynamism. Concerns also arise about regional representation, with Kerala seemingly overrepresented compared to Andhra and Telangana.

As the Congress prepares to lead the newly formed INDIA alliance against a formidable government in the Lok Sabha, it must navigate complex political terrains skillfully. Balancing alliances and competition in states like West Bengal, Kerala, Punjab, and Delhi will be pivotal. Additionally, the party faces challenges in states like Maharashtra, where alliance partners' vulnerability to the BJP's influence poses a unique set of abstrales.

Lunar Triumph

The Indian Space Research Organisation's (ISRO) Lander Chandrayaan-3 Module (LM) achieved an extraordinary feat, marking India's successful soft landing on the Moon's surface on August 23. This monumental achievement, following its launch on July 14, places India as the fourth nation, alongside the USSR, U.S., and China, to achieve this milestone. The event signifies a transformative moment for India in space exploration, particularly with its pioneering touchdown on the uncharted lunar south pole. Chandrayaan-3's success not only enhances India's image but also ignites scientific curiosity among students. Immediately Chandrayaan-3 soft landing, NASA Administrator Bill Nelson's congratulatory note to India "congratulations to #India on being the 4th country to successfully soft-land a spacecraft on the Moon. We're glad to be your partner on this mission!" While celebrations abound, it's important not to overshadow the scientific accomplishments by excessively exuberant displays of patriotism. Chandravaan-3 rectifies past errors, setting the stage for comprehensive lunar research.

India's Lunar Feat

India's historic feat as the first nation to land on the Moon's South Pole stands as a testament to innovation. Overcoming harsh conditions, this accomplishment showcases the determination of both scientists and the government. The resilience shown after a previous setback speaks volumes, with the Prime Minister's encouragement fueling their pursuit of excellence. This triumph ISN'T JUST ADOUT GAINS AND JOSS es: it's a stride towards human advancement. Amidst the BRICS conference, the PM's assurance that this victory benefits global society emphasizes its humanitarian significance. ISRO's achievement not only eases upcoming missions but also taps into the Moon's ice-water deposits for fuel. This remarkable leap brings immortal value, resonating with human welfare. Kudos to ISRO and Indian scientists for this monumental stride.

As the Indian political landscape prepares for the challenges of the forthcoming elections, the revamped CWC emerges as a strategic move by the Congress to reposition itself in the hearts and minds of the people. The party's inability to secure a Leader of Opposition role in the Lok Sabha, a reflection of its underwhelming performance, serves as a poignant reminder of the urgency for change. This restructuring is more than just a symbolic gesture; it is a deliberate attempt to shake off the cobwebs of complacency and rejuvenate the Congress's ideological t- set of obstacles.

The absence of Rahul Gandhi during the CWC reconstitution process in Ladakh suggests an effort by the Gandhi family to grant the President and the CWC greater autonomy. However, skepticism prevails regarding the extent of this change, given the historical dominance of the family. For the Congress to reap electoral rewards, the reconstituted CWC must wield the power to think and act collectively unshackled from the limitations of the past. The journey towards transformation is underway; only time will reveal the true extent of the party's metamorphosis.

Introduction:

India, once known for its diverse symbolism as the land of both serpents and sages, has now solidified its position among the global space technology leaders. This accomplishment comes as India achieves the remarkable feat of being the fourth nation to achieve a soft lunar landing with its Chandrayaan-3 mission. Nestled within the spacecraft, the Chandrayaan-3 rover is poised to explore the lunar surface. The mission duration of the lander is anticipated to span a single lunar day, equivalent to 14 Earth days. In contrast to the previous crash landing, India has now joined the ranks of the United States, Russia, and China in this historic achievement. This feat not only underscores India's expanding space expertise but also marks the pioneering instance of landing at the South Pole region.

Nationwide Celebration

India's space agency has effectively showcased the nation's prowess in space exploration and burgeoning space commerce by successfully landing a rover, Chandrayaan-3, on the Moon. Crafted on a relatively modest budget of under $75 million, the Chandrayaan-3 mission has realized the aspirations of 1.4 billion Indians. This achievement, the culmination of widespread anticipation, has ignited celebrations across the nation. The anxieties that lingered from the previous mission were dispelled, and the collective joy of the Indian populace blossomed upon the rover's lunar touch.

Joining the Elite Lunar Explorers

India's triumphant mission propels it into an exclusive consortium of nations-comprising the United States, the former Soviet Union, and China-that have achieved soft landings on the Moon. Recent attempts by other nations faced challenges, such as a Japanese start-up's miscalculated landing altitude leading to a crash and an Israeli spacecraft's unfortunate lunar surface contact. Following the deployment of an orbiter in the Chandrayaan-2 mission, India succeeded in landing the lander and rover, thereby making strides toward its lunar exploration ambitions. This latest endeavour, Chandrayaan-3, aims to explore the Moon's permanently shadowed craters believed to hold water reserves

Meticulous Planning

Chandrayaan-3 comprises a 2meter-long lander engineered to deploy a rover near the Moon's South Pole-a location where water ice has been detected. The rover is expected to conduct experiments during its two-week operational period. Solar power will fuel Chandrayaan-3's lander and rover throughout their lunar mission, accounting for the Moon's 14-day daynight cycle. Precise calculations guided the mission's timing, ensuring the South Pole region would be sunlit between August 23 and September 5, enabling the rover's charging and scientific activities.

Driving Private Investment and Space Commerce

The Indian Space Research Organization's launch reflects the nation's growing stature as a formidable player in space exploration and commerce. Prime Minister Narendra Modi's policies aimed at boosting investment in private space endeavours have spurred the growth of space startups since 2020. India's expanding space operations, including the successful launch of its privately developed rocket Vikram-S in November 2022, underscore its role as a significant commercial space contributor. India's aspiration to increase its global launch market share fivefold within a decade indicates a strategic pursuit to establish itself as a space industry leader.

India's accomplishment in soft lunar landing with Chandrayaan-3 not only solidifies its position among the leading spacefaring nations but also marks a pivotal stride toward unlocking the mysteries of the Moon's uncharted territories. This achievement stands as a testament to India's unwavering dedication to scientific exploration and technological innovation, ushering the nation onto the global stage as a trailblazer in space exploration.

India, US looking at ending Will soon seek Cabinet nod for green poultry dispute at WTO

Jaipur, Aug 24:

After mutually resolving six trade disputes with the US at the World Trade Organization (WTO), New Delhi and Washington are now trying to engage in ending their last pending dispute over poultry products, a senior government official said on Thursday. In July, India and the US mutually resolved six trade disputes pending at the WTO, in line with the commitment made by the two countries during the US visit of Prime Minister Narendra Modi in June. The six disputes include three initiated by India and as many by the US. The official said that now the two countries have resolved six out of seven trade disputes, and "we are trying to resolve the seventh also". This matter along with some others are expected to figure during the bilateral meeting Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal and US Trade Representative (USTR) Katherine Tai in New Delhi.

The official added that both countries are also exploring participation of their companies in government procurement systems in either countries. During Modi's US visit in June, a joint statement stated that the prime minister had expressed India's interest towards being recognized as a Trade Agreements Act-designated country by the US to further enhance the integration of both economies and promote bilateral trade and investment. In this regard, the two sides have welcomed the initiation of discussions at an official level on issues related to bilateral government procurement. "We also want to be part of their process, they also want us to be a part of our process," the official added.

The six trade disputes which were resolved included a complaint by India against the US with regard to the imposition of countervailing duties on certain hot rolled carbon steel flat products from India. On September 9, 2016, India filed a case against the US pertaining to domestic content requirements and subsidies instituted by the governments of states of Washington, California, Montana, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Michigan, Delaware and Minnesota,

Mumbai, Aug 24:

The rupee appreciated by 14 paise to settle at 82.58 (provisional) against the US dollar on Thursday, marking its third straight day of gains on the back of softening crude oil prices and foreign funds inflows. The upward trend in the past three sessions led to a gain of 55 paise in the Indian currency, rebounding from its all-time low level of 83.11 against the greenback witnessed on Monday. According to reports, the rupee's sharp gain was attributed to the Reserve Bank of India's move to prevent banks from short-term trading in offshore currency markets. The cautious move by investors ahead of the BRICS summit and US Federal Reserve Chair Jerome Powell's speech at the Jackson Hole Symposium restricted the upward movement of the dollar even as negative sentiment in the domestic equity markets weighed on the Indian currency, forex analysts said.

Office space leasing may fall 20 pc to 40 mn sq ft this yr across six major cities: Colliers against US dollar New Delhi, Aug 24:

> Leasing of office space may fall by 20 per cent to 40 million square feet this calendar year across six major cities with corporates making a delay in taking decision regarding their expansion plan, according to Colliers India. In its report 'India office market - Changing winds' released on Thursday, real estate consultant Colliers India has estimated that the gross leasing of office space at 40-45 million square feet in the 2023 calendar year as against 50.3 million square feet in the previous year.

During the first six months of this year, the gross leasing of office space stood at 24.7 million square feet. In the second half, it expects demand to be at 15.3-20.3 million square feet, lower than the first half. Gross absorption does not include lease renewals, pre-commitments and deals where only a Letter of Intent has been signed. Collier said that India's office sector is expected to close stronger at 40-45 million square feet of gross leasing across the top six markets in 2023, perceptibly higher than predicted in March this year. "Domestic office demand is holding up well, supported by resilient economic outlook in spite of the drag from weak external demand," the consultant said. The year started on a cautious note registering 10.1 million square feet of gross absorption in the first quarter, and then saw a relatively faster recovery in second quarter. the During April-June, the leasing stood at 14.6 million square feet, a growth of 46 per cent quarter-on-

quarter. Across six major cities Colliers India has pegged the gross leasing of office space in Bengaluru at 12 14 million square feet, Delhi-NCR 9-11 million square feet and Chennai 7-9 million square feet. In Hyderabad, Mumbai and Pune, the absorption of office space is likely to remain in the range of 4-6 million sq ft each. The year 2023 is likely to see a robust supply aligned with the anticipated space uptake across major office markets, vacancy levels to be range-bound leading to a potential rental upside, the consultant said.

Focus on KL Rahul's fitness as India gear up for Asia Cup

Bengaluru, Aug 24:

India's Asia-Cup-bound squad have started reaching Bengaluru for a 6-day conditioning camp that starts on Thursday at the Karnataka State Cricket Association's campus in Bengaluru as reported by ESPNcricinfo.

The camp intends to act as a team-building exer-cise before the focus moves to the final stages of World Cup preparation, with players' fitness levels-particularly those who just returned from the Caribbean—being a significant focus area.

Many players will undergo fitness assessments followed by a few indoor sessions on the opening day at the KSCA's Three Ovals campus in Alur, Bengaluru. For the skillbased and outdoor conditioning regimens, athletes will be divided into batches starting on Friday.

It will be really interesting to see how India opener KL Rahul pulls up. Meanwhile, the strong contender for the fourth position in the batting order, Shreyas Iyer, is believed to be fully fit and ready to go. Iyer's back troubles saw him miss cricketing action since March.

Iyer's return to the national side is extremely good news for Men in Blue, who are looking towards him and Rahul to provide stability to the team's middle order, which was filled by likes of Ishan Kishan, Suryakumar Yadav, Axar Patel, Sanju Samson etc in their absence. He will be looking to fill up the number four position.

Copenhagen, Aug 24:

World number 19 Gayatri and Treesa, who reached the semifinals of the All England Championships in the last two editions, couldn't sustain the attack against their muchfancied rival and lost 14-21, 9-21 in 42 minutes.

It was only the second meeting between the two pairs with the Indians having lost to the world number one Chinese at the German Open last year. Chen and Jia are three-time gold medallist at the World Championships and have won three BWF titles and finished runner-up twice this season.

The Commonwealth Games bronze winners, who had received a bye in the first round, had a positive start leading 5-2 with the two managing the length to keep up the attack on the Chinese. Treesa and Gayatri moved well and played some good rallies but their experienced opponents managed to grab four straight points to make it 6-6.

Two superb service from Jia left the Indians stranded as the Chinese entered the break with a 11-7 lead.

Treesa played a fine drop from the back court after resumption but the Chinese remained patient with Jia showing great interception. A precise placement from Treesa took India to 10-14. However, Chen and Jia looked in complete control and reached 17-10 with the former playing a terrific forehand cross court.

A long shot from Gayatri handed 8 game points to the Chinese, who squandered two of them before Jia unleashed a smash to seal the issue.

In the second game, Chen was called for a service fault but Jia more than made up with her superb flick serves bamboozling the Indians. Chen also produced a barrage of attack as the Chinese moved to 7-1. With the Indians spraying into the net few times, China grabbed 10-2 before Chen unleashed a powerful smash.

Treesa and Gayatri kept fighting to grab three points after resumption but the Chinese rode on their anticipation and execution to keep moving ahead to 14-7 and eventually grabbed 11 match points and converted in first attempt.

Important to consider Chahal for World Cup: Harbhajan

Chennai, Aug 24:

Former spinner Harbhajan Singh slammed Yuzvendra Chahal's exclusion from the Indian team for upcoming Asia Cup, saying the leg-spinner is a 'proven match-winner'.

Chahal was dropped from the 17-member squad with India preferring to go with Kuldeep Yadav, Axar Patel and Ravindra Jadeja as their three spinners for the Asia Cup.

"The one thing I feel is lacking in the team is the absence of Yuzvendra Chahal. He is a leg-spinner who can get the ball to turn away. I thought his presence in his team was necessary. If you talk about genuine spinner, I don't think there's any spinner in India better than Chahal in white-ball formats," Harbhajan said on his YouTube channel. "Yes, his last few games weren't good, but that doesn't make him a bad bowler. I only included in the fivematch T20I series in which he claimed five wickets in as many matches. Harbhajan hopes the experienced Chahal, who has taken 121 wickets in 72 matches, will be considered for the 2023 World Cup later this year.

"I hope the doors aren't closed to him. It's important to consider him for the World Cup because the tournament is in India. Chahal is a proven matchwinner. I can understand his form isn't good, so you may have rested him. But I think if he was with the team, his confidence would have stayed intact. Any player who comes back

The pole vaulters knew that was possible, thanks to a pair of high jumpers who turned their tie at the Olympics two years ago into a feel-good moment where everyone walked away a winner. The Supreme Court has set free a death row convict, acquitting him of the charge of setting afire his son and two brothers, who were allegedly against his second marriage, at his Bijnore home in 2014, saying the dying declarations of two victims were not in sync with the testimonies of key witnesses.

The top court also dealt in detail with the legal principle on dving declaration and its trustworthiness on the presumption that a person on death bead does not lie.

confidence. Where there is any suspicion over the veracity of the same or the evidence on record shows that the dying declaration is not true it will only be considered as a piece of evidence but cannot be the basis for conviction alone," a bench comprising justices B R Gavai, J B Pardiwala and Prashant Kumar Mishra said in its 36-page judgement. The top court also or-

The trial court had relied upon the dying declarations of Irshad and Islamuddin naming Irfan as the person who set them on fire. The judgement and the sentence were upheld by the Allahabad High Court on 2018, after finding no discrepancies in the

CHANDRAYAAN-3 ISRO hopes mission life of lander and rover will not be limited to one lunar day

Bengaluru, Aug 24 (PTI):

After the successful deployment of Chandrayaan-3's lander and rover on the moon, ISRO is hoping that their mission life will not be limited to one lunar day or 14 earth days, and that they will come back to life when the sun again rises on the Moon, to carry on with the experiments and studies there.

Following the deployment of the lander and rover, the systems on them are now ready to perform experiments one after the other so as to complete them within 14 earth days, before the pitch darkness and extreme cold weather engulfs the Moon. The lander (Vikram) touched down near the south pole of the Moon at 6.04 pm on Wednesday, successfully completing one of the Chandrayaan-3 mission's stated objectives of soft landing on lunar surface.

Earlier today ISRO announced that the rover (Pragyan) rolled down from the lander, stating, 'India took a walk on the

The lander and rover — with a total mass of 1,752 kg are designed to operate for one lunar daylight period (about 14 Earth days) to study the surroundings there.

However, ISRO officials do not rule out the possibility of them coming back to life for another lunar day. Explaining what would happen after the lander's soft landing and deployment of the rover, ISRO Chairman S Somnath had earlier said, "After this, all the experiments (by payloads on lander and rover) will take place one after the other — all of which have to be completed in just one day on the Moon, which is 14 (Earth) days.'

New Delhi, Aug 24 (PTI):

The Railway Board has directed the zonal railways to expeditiously dispose of pending requests of employees for transfer to the station or place of posting of their respective spouses.

The communication to the principal chief personnel officers of 15 zones on August 17 came after the board received a number of representations from railway employees and their associations about delays or denial on their spouse ground transfer requests despite havosed of in terms of laid down policy," the letter stated, adding that the respective zones should apprise the board a summary of all pending and cleared requests along with reasons for the delay. The board is of the view that after the digitisation process of Human Resource Management System (HRMS), such requests should not be pending for long.

On August 20 last year, the board issued a similar direction asking for "information pertaining to disposal of requests of transfer on spouse

'ISRO scientists are not RE COOKER bothered about money but...'

Thiruvananthapuram, Aug 24 (PTI): Buoyed by successful India's Chandrayaan-3 lunar mission, former ISRO chairman G Madhavan Nair said the scientists at space agency have achieved this historic success by getting a salary one-fifth of the scientists in the developed world.

According to him, the low wages for the scientists at ISRO are one of the reasons why they could find low-cost solutions for space exploration.

"The wages paid to the scientists, technicians, and other staff at ISRO are hardly one-fifth of what is given globally. So that gives an advantage,"

Nair told PTI while talking about the Indian space agency's history of exploring space at very low expenses. He said there are no millionaires among ISRO scientists, and they always live a very normal and subdued life. "They are not really bothered about the money but are passionate and dedicated to their mission. That is how we achieved greater heights,' Nair said here.

through careful planning and long-term vision.

He said the scientists at ISRO could achieve this "We tried to build one upon the other. What we learnt in the past, we used for the subsequent mission. In fact, what we developed nearly 30 years ago for the Polar Satellite Launch Vehicle is the same engine that is being used for the GSLV as well," Nair said.

He said India uses home-grown technology for its space missions, and that helped them reduce the cost considerably. He said the space mission costs of India are 50 to 60 percent lower compared to the space missions of other countries.

Nair said the success of Chandrayaan-3 is the first stepping stone to begin India's planetary explorations.

'We have really broken the ice and made a good beginning," he said.
