Modi's Muslim League, tukde tukde dig at Cong manifesto

Nawada (Bihar), Apr 07 (PTI):

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Sunday launched a blistering attack on the opposition Congress, charging that its poll manifesto bore the imprint of Muslim League and utterances of its leaders betrayed hostility towards national integrity and Sanatan Dharma.

PM Modi with Union Minister Giriraj Singh during a public meeting ahead of LS elections, in Nawada, Sunday.

Addressing a rally in Nawada district, his second in Bihar in 72 hours, Modi also recounted the 'jungle raj' that prevailed when the state was ruled by the Congress-RJD combine, showering praises on his ally Nitish Kumar and ailing BJP colleague Sushil Kumar Modi for turning things around as Chief Minister and Deputy Chief Minister respectively. "The manifesto that the Congress has released bears the imprint of the Muslim League. It has not released a poll manifesto but a declaration of appeasement (tushtikaran patra)," alleged Modi. The Prime Minister also came down heavily on AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, without mentioning him by name, who recently objected to raising the issue of abrogation of Article 370, by BJP leaders, during poll campaigns in states like Rajasthan. "The post of the national president of the Congress is not a small thing. And the leader thinks Article 370 has nothing to do with Rajasthan. Is Jammu and Kashmir not an integral part of the country? His thinking betrays the mindset of tukde-tukde gang," alleged Modi. He pointed out that security personnel from all over the country, including Rajasthan and Bihar, have laid down their lives fighting terrorists in Jammu and Kashmir, and "their bodies have reached their native places wrapped in tri-colour".

Ahmedabad, Apr 07 (PTI):

An Afghan and a Gambian delegation had visited the university days after the March 16 attack and held a meeting with the vice-chancellor over safety measures. Talking to PTI, the university's vice-chancellor

More than 300 international students are enrolled in Gujarat University, she said. 'Unemployment 'imposed by BJP' biggest issue in LS polls'

New Delhi, Apr 07 (PTI):

Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge on Sunday said the biggest issue in the Lok Sabha elections is the unemployment "imposed by the BJP", claiming the youth are struggling to find jobs and the country is staring at a "demographic nightmare".

In a post on X, Kharge said the Congress 'Pehli Naukri Pakki' guarantee under 'Yuva Nyay' would remove the barriers that separate work and learning, thereby opening fresh avenues for career growth. "The biggest issue in these Lok Sabha elections is unemployment, imposed by the BJP. Our Youth are struggling to find jobs, and we are staring at a demographic nightmare," the Congress president claimed.

Citing the case of India's premier institutes, IITs and IIMs, Kharge said across 12 IITs, around 30 per cent of our students are not getting regular placements. "Only 20% of 21 IIMs could complete the summer placements so far. If this is the situation in IITs and IIMs, then one can imagine how the BJP has destroyed the future of our Youth across the country," he said. The rate of youth unemployment under Modi government has tripled since 2014, he said.

Latur couple transforms lives of underprivileged children

Latur, Apr 07 (PTI):

In a nondescript village in Maharashtra's Latur district, a couple has created a haven for underprivileged children to educate them and make them self-reliant, and they are now proud parents to 51 boys and girls.

reliant. Similarly, I want to make my children self-reliant. We teach children to make idols and other items by reusing and recycling materials," Sharad Zare told PTI. The ashram's expenses are met through the sale of farm produce and handicrafts made by the children, he said. Over the years, the Zare couple have adopted 51 children from varied backgrounds, including those from red-light areas, orphans, children of sugarcane cutters and farmers who committed suicide. The idea to work for the underprivileged children took shape when he came across a tribal girl performing tricks on a tightrope in Pune in 2016, said Sharad, a postgraduate in mass communication. "The child was so talented, but she was deprived of education as she belonged to a poor family," he said, adding that due to lack of opportunities children from such backgrounds get exposed to substance abuse and resort to crime.

Consider weather, climate for '1 nation, 1 poll': IMD

New Delhi, Apr 07 (PTI):

With the government contemplating the idea of simultaneous Lok Sabha and state elections, India Meteorological Department chief Mrutyunjay Mohapatra said the authorities should certainly take weather conditions and the climate into consideration when planning for such a massive exercise.

authorities prepare better, but it has not proposed a change in the timings of public rallies and voting. Asked about the ideal time to hold elections, given the central government's contemplation of the 'one nation, one poll' concept, the IMD director general stressed that the authorities must consider weather conditions and the climate while planning. 'One nation, one poll' refers to the idea of holding simultaneous polls in the country to elect Lok Sabha and state assembly representatives. The government has proposed this idea, saying it would reduce the deployment of poll officials and security forces multiple times each year and decrease costs incurred by the public exchequer and political parties on their campaigns.

Extended poll timings, ORS, medical teams to help voters

Deal with heat on poll days

Ranchi, Apr 07 (PTI):

In anticipation of intense heat during the Lok Sabha polls in Jharkhand, comprehensive measures have been put in place to mitigate the effects of heat waves on voters, officials, and security personnel. These include extending poll timings, setting up makeshift sheds, providing ORS and lemon water, and deploying medical teams and ambulances, an election official said. The elections will be conducted in seven phases from April 19 to June 1, with Jharkhand's voting taking place on May 13, 20, 25, and June 1 for its 14 seats. With over 2.55 crore eligible voters, including 1.25 crore women, increasing voter turnout amidst the heatwave presents a significant challenge for both the state and the Election Commission. In 2019, Jharkhand's overall voter turnout was 66.8 per cent, lower than the national average of 67.4 per cent. To address this measures such as extending polling hours from 7 am to 5 pm and providing temporary shelters at booths have been implemented.

Durg district takes centre stage ahead of Lok Sabha polls

Raipur, Apr 07: Durg district, a bustling metropolis which played a key role in the state's economic and educational growth, has turned into a political hotspot ever since the declaration of candidates for the upcoming Lok Sabha polls. Four candidates of the opposition Congress, including former chief minister Bhupesh Baghel, and two of the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) for the Lok Sabha elections hail from Durg district, bringing it to the centre stage ahead of the polls. Durg district was founded in 1906 after being carved out from Raipur.

In 1973, the district was divided and a separate Rajnandgaon district came into existence.

Durg was bifurcated again in 2012 and two new districts - Bemetara and Balod - came into existence. With the establishment of the Bhilai Steel Plant, a flagship unit of the Steel Authority of India Limited (SAIL), in 1955 in Durg district, it has grown rapidly and become a hub of economic activity, attracting people from all over the country.

After the formation of Chhattisgarh in 2000, Bhilai city developed as an educational hub with the setting up of technical institutes and coaching centres for engineering and medical entrance exams.

With the announcement of candidates by the BJP and Congress for the upcoming Lok Sabha elections, the political significance of the district has become a point of discussion among experts in the state. Congress's candidate Bhupesh Baghel from Rajnandgaon Lok Sabha seat, Devendra Yadav from Bilaspur seat, Tamradhwaj Sahu from Mahasamund seat and Rajendra Sahu from Durg seat, all hail from the Durg district.

Former chief minister Baghel is an incumbent MLA from Patan assembly seat (Durg district) and Yadav is the sitting legislator Bhilai Nagar seat (Durg).

Tamradhwaj Sahu was the home minister in the previous Congress government in Chhattisgarh and lost the assembly polls from Durg Rural seat.

Similarly, BJP candidates Vijay Baghel from Durg Lok Sabha seat and Saroj Pandey from Korba seat are also natives of Durg district.

Vijay Baghel is the sitting MP from Durg, which Pandey earlier represented in the Lok Sabha from 2009-14. "The district has been politically relevant since long as it had been the home turf of late political stalwarts like Chandulal Chandrakar and Motilal Vora of the Congress and BJP's Tarachand Sahu (who later quit the BJP)," political analyst R Krishna Das told PTI on Sunday. After the formation of the Congress government in Chhattisgarh in 2018, Durg hogged limelight as a political hub with then CM Bhupesh Baghel and his then two cabinet colleagues Tamradhwaj Sahu and Guru Rudra Kumar elected from different assembly constituencies of the same district, he said.

Durg is also a revenue division comprising seven districts - Durg, Rajnandgaon, Balod, Bemetara, Mohla-Manpur, Ambargarh Chowki, Khairagarh-Chhuikhandan-Gandei and Kabirdham.

Three other leaders, Mohammad Akbar, Ravindra Choubey and Anila Bhedia, who were ministers in the previous Congress government, belonged to different districts in Durg revenue division, Das noted.

Even Raman Singh, who has served as Chhattisgarh's chief minister thrice, has been elected four times from Rajnandgaon seat which comes under Durg revenue division, he pointed out. Singh is currently speaker of the Chhattisgarh assembly. The focus of the ruling BJP and opposition Congress on Durg while choosing nominees for the upcoming Lok Sabha polls shows the district's crucial role in the state politics, Das said.

Prof DN Sharma, a renowned educationist from Bhilai, said, "Durg district has been politically significant for a long time. Motilal Vora from the district had served as chief minister of undivided Madhya Pradesh and governor of Uttar Pradesh." "One of the best things is that Durg has never seen communal violence as leaders from the district never did politics on communal lines, Sharma said. The upcoming Lok Sabha polls have once again brought Durg to centre stage in the state politics as the two main parties have shown faith in leaders from the district in the selection of candidates, he added. Elections to the 11 Lok Sabha seats in Chhattisgarh will be held in three phases on April 19, April 26 and May 7, and votes will be counted on June 4.

Why reservation of tribals is confined in Raj Bhavan? Congress

Raipur, Apr 07: Questioning Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Bastar, Pradesh Congress Committee (PCC) President Deepak Baij asked as to why 32 percent reservation of tribal community had been confined by BJP in Raj Bhavan for 15 months.

"The previous Congress government had got the Reservation Amendment Bill unanimously passed by the Assembly and sent it to the Raj Bhavan, why is the Raj Bhavan not signing it? The Governor changed but the signature was not done. Raj Bhavan works as per the intention of the Central Government, why is the reservation for the entire community of Chhattisgarh confined, the tribal community is suffering the most loss due to this. Prime Minister should tell what is he taking revenge from the tribal community?", Baij said in his statement.

Baij said that during the assembly elections, Modi had told the people of Bastar that Nagarnar Steel Plant will not be disinvested. Why is Nagarnar included among the institutions to be disinvested on DIPAM's website till date?, he asked and said that this revealed the intentions of BJP Congress will not allow the rights of the tribals of Bastar to be sold, he said. After the formation of Congress government at the Centre, the process of selling the Nagarnar plant will be stopped, he said, adding that after the formation of the Congress government at the Centre, Raj Bhavan will be asked to sign the Reservation Amendment Bill.

Many MVY beneficiaries yet to get 2nd installment: Cong

Raipur, Apr 07:

Congress has demanded that the government should tell how many women have been credited with the second installment of Mahtari Vandan Yojana (MVY). According to Pradesh Congress Communication head Sushil Anand Shukla most of the women who had received the first installment have not yet received the second installment.

After giving the first installment, the BJP government is not giving the second installment to the women, said Shukla, adding that government is only making statements about giving the second installment.

He demanded that government should make public the names of the women in whose accounts the second installment has been deposited. Questioning BJP's intentions he said that when money was not coming into the accounts of women before the Lok Sabha elections, then it was guaranteed that the MVY will be scrapped after the Lok Sabha elections. Vishnu Deo Sai's government has proved that lies, rhetoric and broken promises are Modi's guarantee, he said, adding that double engine government is only exploiting Chhattisgarh.

He said that married women between 18 to 21 years of age were completely cheated. Even the money of those who were declared eligible has not yet been credited to their accounts, he said.

Shukla said that women will protest against BJP's breach of promise and will form the Congress government at the Centre. If Congress government is formed at the Centre, poor women of the state will get Rs 1 lakh, he said, adding that direct transfer will be done annually. That means approximately Rs 8333 will be given to women every month and Rs 5 lakh will be deposited in the accounts of poor women in 5 years, he said, adding that amount will be deposited by the Congress government.

Students aspiring to join the Armed Forces need proper guidance : Maj. Singh

Interview with Major Pravin Singh (Retd) Director, Cardinal Warriors Private Military School with Josh aur Hosh

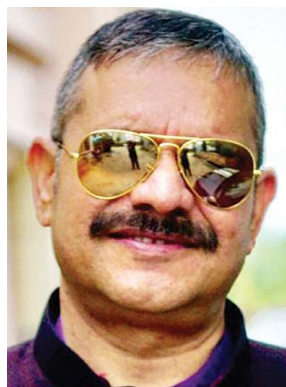

Reporter: Good day, Major Pravin Singh. It's an honor to have you here today. Could you start by sharing the inspiration behind getting into the education field after leaving Army?

Major Pravin Singh (Retd): Thank you, Ashok Tomar. The inspiration for establishing an educational institution stemmed from my deep commitment to grooming and motivating young individuals to join the glorious career in the Armed forces. Having served as a para-trooper, I understand the importance of a comprehensive training program for aspiring officers. We not only offer an integrated National Defence Academy written examination but also focuses on the Service Selection Board Interview, providing a holistic approach to the preparation for National Defence Academy.

Reporter: That's commendable, Major Pravin Singh. Could you shed some light on the unique aspects of your ideology and the programs through which you implement it?

Major Pravin Singh (Retd): We stand out by offering guidance for AISSEE/RMS & RIMC entrance tests for classes 6 & 9, ensuring a solid foundation for students from a young age. We believe in comprehensive preparation, both academically and psychologically, for the armed forces examinations. Our aim is to produce disciplined and motivated individuals ready to serve our nation with pride.

Reporter: It's evident that your school is making a significant contribution to preparing the future defenders of our country. I've heard that there's a particular focus on candidates from Chhattisgarh. Can you tell us more about this?

Major Pravin Singh (Retd): Absolutely. In Chhattisgarh, there has been a lack of awareness and proper guidance for students aspiring to join the Armed Forces as officers. Despite having immense potential, there are not many volunteers from Chhattisgarh. Recognizing this gap, we initiated the program providing both online and offline guidance to defense aspirants. Our team of retired officers from the Army, Navy, and Airforce, including Major General Sanjay Sharma (Retd.), Brigadier Ashish Das (Retd.), Capt (In) Alok Mishra, Group Captain Satish Mishra (Retd.), and Major Chakradhar Raut (Retd.), aims to groom and train students, bridging this awareness and guidance gap.

Reporter: That's a noble initiative, Major Pravin Singh. How do you plan to provide this guidance to students in Chhattisgarh?

Major Pravin Singh (Retd): SRK Academy understands the importance of accessibility. Hence, we offer guidance in both online and offline formats. Students can benefit from live classes or self-paced courses covering NDA, AISSEE, RMS, RIMC, and SSB interview preparations. Additionally, schools can integrate our online guidance programs to help their students navigate the intricacies of these examinations and interviews effectively. I would like to lay special emphasis on the huge response from girl cadets who are very enthusiastic once the gates of Sainik School as well National Defence academy has been opened for them.

Reporter: It sounds like you are not only addressing the current gaps but also striving to make quality guidance accessible to girl cadets. Lastly, Major Pravin Singh, what message would you like to convey to the youth of Chhattisgarh who aspire to join the Armed Forces?

Major Pravin Singh (Retd): To the youth of Chhattisgarh, I would like to say that you have immense potential and capability to clear national-level examinations conducted by UPSC. With the right guidance, training, and determination, you can serve our country with pride. We are here to support you in your journey towards becoming a dedicated and disciplined officer in the Armed Forces and we are conducting free seminars and webinars with all relevant basic information about how to prepare for NDA and SSB in various cities of Chhattisgarh starting from 31 March 2024 after the board examination. The cities covered will be Raipur, Durg, Bilai, Jagdalpur, Rajnandgaon, Korba, Raigarh and Surajpur.

Reporter: Thank you, Major Pravin Singh, for sharing valuable insights into your endeavors and the impact they are making. We wish you continued success in your mission to shape the future defenders of our nation.

PM's guarantee is 24-carat pure gold: Rajnath Singh

Jaipur, Apr 07 (PTD)

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Sunday termed Prime Minister Narendra Modi's guarantee as 24-carat pure gold and said there is distrust among people about the guarantees of the Congress.

He said Prime Minister Modi delivers whatever he says and people of the country are its witness.

"PM Modi's guarantee is 24-carat pure gold whereas there is a distrust among people about the guarantees of the Congress," Singh told reporters at a press conference here.

The Lok Sabha elections are due in the state on April 19 and 26.

He said that people do not trust the Congress' guarantees because they made big promises but could not deliver them.

The senior BJP leader said the speed with which work is being done makes every person feel that the country's future is bright.

If there is any credible political party which has no difference between its words and deeds, then it is the BJP, he added.

"Not only in India but abroad, there is no question mark on the credibility of the government.

The commitments made in the manifesto were fulfilled in letter and spirit, whether it was Ram Mandir or the Citizenship Act or Triple Talaq or abrogation of Article 370," he said.

Singh said the 10 years of BJP rule at the Centre have proved to be golden from socio-economic, political, strategic, constitutional and cultural point of view.

There is a positive sentiment in the country about India's success which was seen never before. Fiscal deficit has reduced, exports are increasing, investment is on the rise, inflation is being controlled, opportunities have also increased and income has increased, he added.

Singh said the NITI Aayog has said that after several financial forums 2014, 25 crore people have come out of the poverty line and there has been a record reduction in the NPA of the bank.

Targeting the Congress, he said it is the same party which could not provide bullet proof jackets, helmets and other essential materials that were required and is making such promises today in its manifesto.

Elaborating about the defence challenges, the minister said there are many challenges from the defence point of view, including cyber war and unconventional warfare.

"It is important that India be prepared for all this and we will work from this perspective. If India is strengthening from a defence point of view, it is not for attacking any country in the world but for its own security," Singh said. "India's history has been that the nation has neither attacked any country in the world nor taken an inch of land. This has been the character of India," he added.

He said India wants to maintain good relations with all its neighbouring countries and is also of the view that they will respond in the same manner.

Stating that he had recently asked people how it feels to have elections again and again, Singh said people want that election should not happen again and again.

'Kerala hotbed for anti-national forces'

● Due to misgovernance of state govt'

Maharashtra CM Devendra Fadnavis during a visit to Sree Padmanabhaswamy Temple, in Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala, Sunday.

Thiruvananthapuram, Apr 07 (PTI): Kerala has become a "hotbed for anti-national forces" due to the "misgovernance" and vote bank politics by the parties which were in power in the state over the years, Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis said here on Sunday.

Fadnavis, who was in the state capital as part of the BJP's Lok Sabha poll campaign, said that Kerala ought to have been at the forefront and leading the technological and new economic revolution of the country.

But, the state was going backwards, despite its high literacy rate and "wonderful talent", due to the LDF and UDF's "similar agenda of corruption and oppression", he alleged.

He further alleged that "due to misgovernance, it (Kerala) has become a hotbed for anti-national forces and just for vote bank, the local governments are shielding the anti-national forces".

"That is why I feel that it is high time that Kerala should come into the mainstream," Fadnavis said at a press conference here.

On being asked about the recent Kannur bomb blast that claimed a life and injured three others - all CPI(M) workers according to the police -- Fadnavis said that "criminalisation of politics has always been here".

"Now that the Election Commission is proactive, all such attempts would be unearthed," he replied.

Regarding queries about the recent telecast of the controversial film - The Kerala Story -- on Doordarshan, the Maharashtra Deputy CM said that once a movie is cleared for public viewing by the censor board, there is no bar on its telecast on any platform.

Mehbooba against Ghulam Nabi in Anantnag

● PDP names candidates for 3 Valley seats

Srinagar, Apr 07 (PTD)

Peoples Democratic Party president Mehbooba Mufti will contest the Lok Sabha polls from the Anantnag-Rajouri seat against DPAP president Ghulam Nabi Azad, making the newly carved out constituency the most high-profile contest in Jammu and Kashmir in these elections.

The National Conference has fielded influential Gujjar leader Mian Altaf Ahmad from the seat and the Apni Party has named Zaffar Iqbal Manhas. The BJP has not announced its candidate so far.

PDP Parliamentary Board Chief Sartaj Madni on Sunday announced the party candidates for the three seats of Kashmir. The party's youth wing president Waheed Parra will contest the polls from Srinagar and former Rajya Sabha member Mir Fayaz from Baramulla.

The candidates were announced by the party at a press conference addressed by Mufti and Madni. They said the PDP will support the Congress on two Jammu region seats of Udhampur and Jammu.

Asked if the Congress will reciprocate in Kashmir, the PDP president said she was not extending support to the national party on quid pro basis. "We have decided to support the Congress for the larger fight to save the Constitution and democracy."

"But I would appeal to not only Congress workers but NC workers also to support me so that we can take the voice of the people of Jammu and Kashmir to Parliament," she said. "My appeal to all people of the constituency -- from Anantnag to Rajouri and Poonch -- is to come together as we are passing through a critical stage.

People cannot talk. Talking has become a crime. If someone raises voice, he is labelled as anti-national," she added.

On her party contesting against INDIA bloc partner National Conference, Mufti said she had left the ball in NC president Farooq Abdullah's court.

"We had left the decision to Farooq Abdullah. We would not mind even if they had contested all the seats but they should have at least consulted us.

They should not have demeaned our party and workers by saying they will see our behaviour in Lok Sabha polls before deciding on alliance for Assembly elections," she said.

Awareness about air pollution-related terminologies low among urban poor

New Delhi, Apr 07 (PTD)

Awareness about air pollution-related terminologies such as air quality index and particulate matter is "significantly" low among the urban poor in Delhi-NCR, according to a survey.

The study conducted from December 2023 to January 2024 covered 500 people in Delhi and National Capital Region (NCR) cities of Noida, Ghaziabad, Faridabad and Gurugram. For the survey, they were divided into two groups -- residents of informal settlements and slums, and formal middle-class settlements.

"Awareness of air pollution-related terminology was significantly lower among the urban poor. Only 10 per cent of people were aware of air pollution terms like AQI (air quality index) and PM 2.5, while 71 per cent of middle-class settlements were aware," the survey "Saaf Saans" conducted by NGO Chintan Environmental Research and Action Group said.

PM 2.5 levels are fine particles that have a diameter less than 2.5 micrometers, more than 100 times thinner than a human hair and remain suspended in the air for longer durations and pose health risks as they can enter into the respiratory tract.

The study's findings also highlighted that 33 per cent of urban poor respondents perceived vehicles as the main cause of air pollution, 27 per cent construction activities and 20 per cent stubble burning.

Social media was found to be the most reliable source of information among 29 per cent of urban poor respondents and 26 per cent of middle-class respondents, the survey said. "Middle-class respondents used air purifiers and indoor plants as measures to reduce exposure to air pollution, while the urban poor depended on face masks and increased water intake," it added. Campaigns on social media and enforcing stricter regulations against "open burning" and construction violations among other measures could check air pollution the respondents said, according to the survey report.

New Delhi, Apr 07 (PTD)

Chennai-based space start-up Agnikul Cosmos on Sunday called off the maiden launch of its 3D-printed, semi-cryogenic Agnibaan rocket about 92 seconds before lift-off citing some technical issues.

Sunday's was the third attempt at the test launch of the Agnibaan Sub-Orbital Technology Demonstrator (SORTeD) since March 22, when the test flight was first scheduled to be held at the Agnikul Launch Pad at ISRO's Satish Dhawan Space Centre at Sriharikota.

The second attempt at the test launch at 7.45 am on Saturday also could not fructify.

On Sunday, the Agnibaan SORTeD launch was scheduled at 5.30 am but was put off to 7.45 am.

"The Agnibaan SORTeD lift-off was cancelled at T minus 92 seconds," the IIT Chennai incubated start-up said. Agnikul is seeking to conduct India's second private rocket launch, following startup Skyroot Aerospace's November 2022 launch of the Vikram-S sub-orbital rocket.

Agnibaan is a customisable, two-stage launch vehicle that can carry a payload of up to 300 kg into orbit of about 700 km, according to the company.

The rocket uses a semi-cryogenic engine with a mix of liquid and gas propellants, a technology that is yet to be demonstrated by the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) in any of its rockets. The SORTeD mission is a single-stage launch vehicle demonstration that will be powered by a semi-cryogenic engine, the Agnilet, a sub-cooled liquid oxygen-based propulsion system developed indigenously.

'Rahul Gandhi should step aside if Cong does not get desired poll results'

New Delhi, Apr 07 (PTD)

Political strategist Prashant Kishor has suggested that Rahul Gandhi should consider stepping back if the Congress does not get the desired results in the Lok Sabha polls.

In an interaction with PTI editors, he said Gandhi, for all practical purposes, is running his party and has been unable to either step aside or let somebody else steer the Congress despite his inability to deliver in the last 10 years.

"This according to me is also anti-democratic," said Kishor, who had prepared a revival plan for the opposition party but walked out due to the disagreements between him and its leadership over the execution of his strategy.

"When you are doing the same work for the last 10 years without any success, then there is no harm in taking a break... You should allow someone else to do it for five years. Your mother did it," he said, recalling Sonia Gandhi's decision to keep away from politics following her husband Rajiv Gandhi's assassination and let P V Narasimha Rao take charge in 1991.

A key attribute of good leaders the world over is that they know what they lack and actively look to fill those gaps, he said.

"But it seems to Rahul Gandhi that he knows everything. Nobody can help you if you do not recognise the need for help. He believes he needs someone who can execute what he thinks is right. It is not possible," Kishor said.

Citing Gandhi's decision to resign as the Congress president following the party's drubbing in the 2019 polls, he said the Wayanad MP had then written that he would step back and let somebody else do the job. But, in effect, he has been doing contrary to what he had written, he added.

Many Congress leaders will admit privately that they cannot take any decision in the party, even about a single seat or seat sharing with alliance partners "unless they get the approval from xyz," he said, referring to their need to defer to Rahul Gandhi.

However, a section of Congress leaders also privately say the situation is in fact the opposite and Rahul Gandhi does not take decisions, which they wish he would.

Evaluation of Board copies amidst shortages

Lack of clean toilet and drinking water facilities

Khairagarh, Apr 07:

The Dr. Padumlal Punnalal Bakshi cum Atmanand School in Khairagarh has emerged as the district's first-ever evaluation center for board examinations. More than 300 evaluators are diligently assessing papers from the 10th and 12th board exams on a daily basis. However, amidst this significant milestone, concerns have been raised about the conditions at the evaluation center.

Recently, a team of journalists conducted an inspection following complaints about inadequate facilities. It was discovered that evaluator teachers, committed to their task despite shortages and chaos, were facing challenges including the lack of clean toilets and pure drinking water. Moreover, amidst the scorching heat, they were provided only with fans while checking examination copies.

Urgent need at assessment center

Investigation reveals dire conditions at the assessment center, highlighting critical deficiencies in essential amenities. The absence of a water filtration system exacerbates the challenge of providing pure drinking water, forcing teachers to bring water from their homes. Despite previous installation efforts, the state of the RO machine, originally provided by the State Bank, now lies in disrepair.

Similarly, the lack of clean toilet facilities poses a significant concern. With renovation plans stalled due to administrative negligence, the school's toilets remain dirty and malodorous. Despite efforts to maintain cleanliness, the outdated facilities perpetuate an environment unfit for evaluation activities. Addressing these shortcomings requires urgent attention from both school authorities and the district administration.

Board exam copy evaluation continues

As of April 6th, a total of 86,693 copies have been meticulously examined, leaving 23,183 copies pending evaluation. The deadline for completing the evaluation of board examination copies is set for April 14th.

56,427 copies out of a total of 68,951 copies received for the 10th Board have been evaluated, while 30,266 copies out of 40,645 received for the 12th Board have undergone assessment. However, there are still 12,524 copies of class 10th and 10,659 copies of class 12th awaiting evaluation.

A dedicated team of 340 teachers is diligently providing their services in this crucial task. Among them, 184 evaluators are focusing on assessing papers for the 10th board, while 156 evaluators are dedicated to the evaluation of 12th board papers.

Bemetara, Apr 07:

The programme started by lighting a lamp in front of the statue of the Goddess Saraswati Devi by Awadhesh Patel, teachers & students.

help them to equip them with skills. The skills will help the students to earn their livelihood in the adverse situation also. The subconscious mind refers to the part of our mind that operates below the level of conscious awareness. It's responsible for storing memories, emotions, habits, beliefs, and automatic bodily functions. The subconscious mind is where memories are stored, both short-term and long-term. It plays a crucial role in learning and retaining information. Many cognitive processes, such as language acquisition and skill development, are heavily influenced by the subconscious mind.

Our emotions and habits are largely controlled by the subconscious mind. It's where emotional responses are generated, and where habitual behaviors are formed. Positive habits, such as exercising regularly or practicing gratitude, can be cultivated through the power of the subconscious mind. Our subconscious mind holds our beliefs about ourselves and the world around us.

These beliefs shape our self-image and influence our thoughts, feelings, and actions. By changing limiting beliefs and adopting empowering ones, we can harness the power of the subconscious mind to create positive changes in our lives.

The subconscious mind is also where creativity and intuition reside. Many breakthrough ideas and solutions emerge from the depths of the subconscious. By tapping into this creative reservoir through techniques like meditation, visualization, or dream analysis, individuals can access innovative insights and solutions to problems. Some proponents of the power of the subconscious mind believe that it has the ability to manifest our desires and goals. By programming the subconscious with positive affirmations, visualization, and goal-setting techniques, individuals can align their thoughts and actions with their aspirations, thereby increasing the likelihood of achieving them.

There's evidence to suggest that the subconscious mind can influence physical health and well-being. Practices such as hypnosis, meditation, and guided imagery have been used to tap into the healing potential of the subconscious, with reported benefits ranging from pain relief to immune system enhancement. Finally, the subconscious mind controls numerous automatic bodily functions, such as breathing, heartbeat, digestion, and immune response. Imran refrains from denotifying Bajwa despite betrayal

Islamabad, Apr 07 (PTI):

Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf founder Imran Khan on Saturday said that he did not de-notify former Army chief Gen (ret) Qamar Javed Bajwa despite his actions during the removal of PTI government in 2022 'felt like a betrayal', according to a media report.

Khan, 71, who was ousted from power in April 2022 via the opposition's no-confidence motion, had blamed Gen Bajwa for playing a vital role against his government.

Speaking to journalists in an informal conversation during the hearing of the Toshakhana reference in Adiala Jail, Khan said: "Although General Bajwa's actions felt like a betrayal, we [the then PTI government] refrained from convening a committee to confront him".

During the conversation, Khan once again called for negotiations for the betterment of the country. "It's for the betterment of Pakistan, so convince me for negotiations. If I could meet Gen Qamar Bajwa twice following the removal of our government, then I could meet anyone. Right now, it is not about me, but is about Pakistan," he said. Khan said that he could have de-notified General Bajwa despite his "betrayal", however, he chose not to as he did not want to confront the Pakistan Army. On the Toshakhana reference, the former prime minister said that he and his wife Bushra Bibi were convicted in the reference by claiming that the value of the jewellery set was Rs 3 billion while the real value was Rs 18 million.

In this regard, he said that he would file a case against the chairman of the National Accountability Bureau (NAB) and the prosecution witness Inam Shah.

Khan said that the former spy chief General Faiz Hameed (Retd) and General Bajwa informed him about corruption within the Sharif family and their acquisition of cars from Toshakhana. However, the PTI founder said that their cases have not been pursued.

UNESCAP report projects widening tax gap in Pakistan

Islamabad, Apr 07 (PTI):

A top UN agency report has assessed that Pakistan's tax gap stands at around 3 per cent of the GDP and could go to over 12 per cent against the existing level of 9 per cent of the GDP, a media report said on Saturday.

On the macroeconomic front, the United Nations Economic and Social Survey of Asia and Pacific (UNESCAP) 2024 projected Gross Domestic Product (GDP) growth of 2 per cent and inflation at 26 per cent for the ongoing fiscal year.

"The GDP growth rate is projected to go up to 2.3 per cent in FY25 while inflation would fall to 12.2 per cent," reported The News International.

On tax gap, the UNESCAP states that despite their low tax levels, tax gaps in Bangladesh, Pakistan and Sri Lanka are moderate, although such gaps are not necessarily small if measured as a share of current tax revenues rather than as a share of the GDP.

This suggests that better tax policies and administration alone may not help bridge the vast development financing gaps in low-tax countries. Overall improvements in socio-economic development and public governance would be needed as well as tax revenue enhancement on a larger scale.

The Federal Board of Revenue's (FBR) tax-to-

GDP ratio hovers around 9 per cent of the GDP keeping in view the projected annual tax collection target of Rs 9,415 billion for the current fiscal year. The UNESCAP has estimated that the tax-to-GDP ratio could go up to 12 per cent of the GDP.

It further states that Pakistan's economy faced political unrest that had adverse impacts on business and consumer sentiment, while a massive flood disrupted agricultural production.

Pakistan secured an IMF agreement in mid-2023 which would help with further assistance from such bilateral partners as China, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates.

Pakistan set to repay USD 1 billion against Eurobond

Islamabad, Apr 07 (PTI):

Pakistan is set to repay a foreign debt worth USD 1 billion against a 10-year Eurobond maturing in the middle of this month which will reduce the stock of the debt acquired through the selling of bonds in international markets to below USD 7 billion. The State Bank of Pakistan (SBP) told The Express Tribune that it was ready to repay the bond anytime and was waiting to receive instructions to do so from the finance ministry.

The move will reduce the stock of the debt acquired through selling Eurobonds and Sukuks (bond-like instruments used in Islamic finance) in international markets to below USD 7 billion. This has enhanced the coun-

The world's oldest man says the secret to his longevity is luck, plus regular fish and chips

London, Apr 07 (AP):

The world's oldest man says the secret to his long life is luck, moderation — and fish and chips every Friday.

Englishman John Alfred Tinniswood, 111, has been confirmed as the new holder of the title by Guinness World Records. It follows the death of the Venezuelan record-holder, Juan Vicente Pérez, this month at the age of 114. Gisaburo Sonobe from Japan, who was next longest-lived, died March 31 at 112.

Tinniswood was presented with a certificate by Guinness World Records on Thursday at the care home where he lives in Southport, northwest England.

Born in Liverpool on August 26, 1912, a few months after the sinking of the Titanic, Tinniswood lived through two world wars, serving in the British Army Pay Corps in World War II.

The retired accountant and great-grandfather said moderation was key to a healthy life. He never smokes, rarely drinks and follows no special diet, apart from a fish and chip supper once a week.

"If you drink too much or you eat too much or you walk too much — if you do too much of anything — you're going to suffer eventually," Tinniswood told Guinness World Records.

But ultimately, he said, "it's pure luck. You either live long or you live short, and you can't do much about it."

The world's oldest woman, and oldest living person, is 117-year-old Maria Branyas Morera of Spain.

Six security personnel, 12 militants killed in separate incidents

Quetta: Six security personnel, including a senior police officer, died while 12 militants were killed in separate terror incidents and security operations in Pakistan's restive Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and Balochistan provinces in the past two days, officials said on Sunday.

The Inter-Services Public Relations (ISPR), the media wing of the Pakistan armed forces, said in the Balochistan province, four militants were killed in two separate incidents. In Khyber Pakhtunkhwa (KP), eight militants were killed in the Kot Sultan area of Kulachi tehsil in Dera Ismail Khan district when security forces carried out an operation against them, the ISPR said. The security forces recovered weapons, ammunition and explosives from the slain militants, it added.

Some of his party leaders in touch with establishment: Imran Khan

Islamabad, Apr 07 (PTI):

Pakistan's jailed former prime minister Imran Khan has said that some of his party leaders are in contact with the powerful establishment, as he expressed willingness to hold a dialogue with anyone amidst the crack-down on his party.

Khan's remarks came as he spoke to reporters after the hearing of the Al-Qadir Trust corruption case on Saturday, the Dawn newspaper said. Khan, 71, said that he was ready to hold a dialogue with anyone for the sake of the country.

The Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) founder said if he could hold talks with former army chief Qamar Javed Bajwa, who he later accused of being instrumental in the fall of his government in April 2022, then he could meet anyone since the country was passing through a difficult phase.

Khan said that a few leaders in the PTI "are still in contact with the establishment", apparently for negotiations. However, he did not elaborate.

He also claimed that the mandate of the PTI had been stolen and "efforts were being made to take over the party".

Since falling out with the powerful military, Khan's party has been facing a crackdown. The party faced pressure in the form of arrests and dese-rtions in the wake of the May 9 violence that broke out after Khan's arrest last year.

Since his removal from power in a no-confidence motion in April 2022, the cricketer-turned-politician has been convicted in at least four cases.

Khan said his spouse Bushra Bibi was being allegedly targeted to exert pre-ssure on him and added that those pointing fingers at her were doing so in a bid to 'dismantle' the party.

Khan said he had never entered into a confrontation with the military. He claimed that the ex-army chief 'backstabbed' him, adding he could have de-notified him but he exercised restraint.

Cricket tourism and hospitality takes off in the US

Washington, Apr 07 (PTI):

The presence of a large diaspora population from cricket-fanatic countries like India, Pakistan and Australia appears to have created a new form of the tourism and hospitality domain in the US.

Founded by an Indian-American couple from Bihar, Florida-based Cricketbuster is trying to capture this "cricket mania" among the Indian-American population and those from the cricket-playing nations by offering them customisable travel packages that include official match tickets, hotels, flights, cruises and many other attractions for international cricket tournaments and the all-important T20 leagues all across the world. "We are developing sports e-commerce here.

We got approval from the International Cricket Council (ICC). We have the right to sell the packages. (Cricket match) tickets are also included in the package. We are creating an experience," Vinny Kumar, chief operating officer of Cricketbuster, told PTI in an interview.

Kumar along with his wife Rashmi Kumar co-founded this company a few years ago. Beginning with the ICC Men's Cricket World Cup in India last year, Cricketbuster is the official OTA (online travel agency) for the ICC.

"It's just not that you're buying a ticket or coming to the stadium. Suppose you're going to New York because we have an India-Pakistan match there this year... you don't know which hotel you have to stay in, how far you stay from the stadium, and what other attractions you want to visit in New York," Kumar said.

"So, we have an all-inclusive package, which has an official match ticket, which is a tough spot to find. In addition to that, we can also help you to find the right hotel, right inter-city transfers," he said in Orlando this week, where he had come to attend the annual convention of Asian American Hotel Owners Association.

"It's like a one-stop shop, you can just buy the package and you go to the stadium, watch the game and come back. And we will take care of the entire trip. This is what we are trying to do. We have received support from the ICC. We are the only company in the United States who takes care of that," Kumar said.

The company was founded by the Kumar couple in 2019, but soon the COVID-19 pandemic struck. However, in 2021, Cricketbuster got its first tournament in Dubai, and it took almost 500 fans from the United States to the United Arab Emirates.

Heat Crisis

Protecting Our Outdoor Labor Force

As the scorching sun intensifies its assault, a profound threat looms over the backbone of our nation—the outdoor workforce. The rising temperatures, forecasted to peak during the April-June period, herald a perilous era for workers toiling under the open skies. The dire warning from the India Meteorological Department paints a stark picture: above-normal temperatures are poised to engulf vast swathes of our country. Particularly vulnerable are the central and western regions, bracing for the harshest impact of this impending heatwave. In the face of this imminent danger, researchers advocate for urgent reforms in outdoor labor practices. Flexibility in work hours and mandatory breaks emerge as indispensable measures to help workers cope with the sweltering conditions exacerbated by climate change. Professor Vimal Mishra's elucidation on the perils of humid heat underscores the gravity of the situation. Working in such conditions not only strains the body to its limits but can also lead to fatal consequences—a fate no worker should endure. The findings of international studies resonate with alarming clarity. With each degree of warming, millions of outdoor workers face the daunting prospect of reduced productivity and compromised health. The tropics, home to a substantial portion of the global workforce, stand at the precipice of a perilous future. The ramifications extend beyond productivity, transcending into matters of public health. A poignant study conducted in Tamil Nadu unveils the grim reality faced by pregnant women working in extreme heat. The heightened risk of miscarriages and adverse birth outcomes underscores the urgent need for intervention. Empowerment and awareness emerge as potent tools in safeguarding the well-being of our outdoor labor force. Mishra's call for adaptive measures resonates deeply—we must equip our workers with the knowledge and agency to navigate these treacherous conditions. Venugopal's plea for heightened awareness among outdoor women workers strikes a chord. Primary healthcare centers, pivotal in their role, must spearhead initiatives to educate and protect these vulnerable individuals. Inaction is not an option. The time for decisive action is now. Governments, employers, and communities must unite in a concerted effort to shield our outdoor workforce from the impending heat crisis. It is not merely a matter of labor rights but a testament to our collective commitment to human dignity and well-being. As temperatures soar, let us not falter in our resolve. The heat may be relentless, but our determination to safeguard our workers must be unwavering. Together, let us forge a future where no worker is left to endure the scorching burdens of the sun unprotected.

Manifesto Realism

Yash Pal Raihan

In the cacophony of election fervor, manifestos emerge as political scriptures, promising a utopia to the electorate. However, beneath the veneer of lofty ideals lies the harsh reality of deliverability—a realm where many manifestos falter. Reflecting on past elections, it becomes evident that manifestos often serve as political theater rather than pragmatic roadmaps. The BJP's 2014 campaign, marked by the infamous "15 lakh rupees to every citizen" promise, was later dismissed as mere electoral rhetoric by party leaders. Similarly, the grandiose commitment to doubling farmers' income was deemed unattainable when challenged in court. Now, as the Congress unveils its manifesto, replete with promises of social justice, farmer welfare, and employment, skepticism lingers. While the intent to uplift the marginalized and empower the youth is commendable, historical precedent casts doubt on the feasibility of such pledges. The Congress's pledge to conduct a national caste census and implement sweeping agrarian reforms mirrors past rhetoric that failed to materialize under previous administrations. The disparity between promise and action raises legitimate concerns among voters, especially regarding the party's track record in fulfilling similar commitments during its tenure. Moreover, the Congress's internal strife adds another layer of uncertainty. As defections plague the party, questions arise about its ability to maintain cohesion and implement its agenda effectively. A manifesto loses its potency when the very party presenting it grapples with internal discord. Amidst these challenges, the electorate remains vigilant. While manifestos serve as a barometer of a party's vision, voters scrutinize their realism. Promises of poverty alleviation and job creation evoke skepticism, given their recurrent inclusion in past manifestos with little substantive follow-through. However, amidst the skepticism lies hope. The Congress's proposals for job creation, educational relief, and healthcare reform demonstrate a commitment to addressing pressing issues. Yet, the party must bridge the gap between rhetoric and action to earn the electorate's trust. In essence, manifestos offer a glimpse into a party's aspirations. But it is the execution of these aspirations that defines its credibility. As the electorate navigates through the sea of promises, they seek not just grand ideas, but tangible results. Only then can manifestos transcend political theater and become blueprints for meaningful change.

Insider-outsider debate is unwarranted

R.K. SINHA

Fortunately, for the right-thinking men and women in this country, insider-outsider question has not been raised so far in this year's election. It has not been a debatable point. The focus has shifted to corruption and role of central agencies like the Enforcement Directorate or ED. The filing of nomination papers is on and an intensive campaigning has been launched for the upcoming Lok Sabha election. The tempo is rising day by day. But, no one is asking whether the candidate in a particular constituency is an insider or outsider. This debate is unnecessary because everyone who is an Indian is an insider. But a few leaders in this country love to create controversies and survive only because of such baseless debates.

It may be recalled that several time chief minister of Gujarat and 2014 Lok Sabha candidate Narendra Modi was also called an outsider by vested interests. It's another matter that voters gave a damn to them. Similarly, a controversy was created when Arun Jaitley had contested from Amritsar in 2014. The Congress had raised this bogey even at that time.

Surprisingly, this question was raised by a party which had fielded an outsider as early as in 1952 when the first Lok Sabha election was held. A Malayali, C. Krishnan Nair, was selected for a Delhi seat. He was endearingly called Delhi Gandhi. Nair had played an important role in establishment of the Delhi Development Authority (DDA). He had also won the Lok Sabha elections held in 1957. The same Congress which had given ticket to Nair had made Sucheta Kriplani, who was born in Ambala and belonged to a Bengali family, its candidate for New Delhi seat. Later, Sucheta ji had become chief minister of the biggest state of the country, Uttar Pradesh also. Sucheta's husband was a famous freedom fighter Acharya Kripalani who was an MP from Bhalgalpur and later from Sitamarhi in Bihar. He was a Sindhi. Shri. S.M. Banerjee was a long-time MP from Kanpur. A Bengali-speaking Banerjee had migrated from Bengal to Kanpur. He was a famous labour leader.

Clearly, those who have asked insider/outside question do not know that every Indian citizen has an equal right to live anywhere or contest elections from anywhere. George Fernandes, after Kriplani, is another example. He hailed from the South, joined labour movement in Mumbai, but; had made Bihar his second home. Biharis too did not consider him an outsider and treated him like their own. He used to speak Bhojpuri and Maithili, two local dialects with ease. The people of Bihar sent George to the Lok Sabha several times from Muzaffarur, Bihar. He won the Lok Sabha elections from Mumbai as well.

The country has hardly seen a labour leader like George—a simple man with casual look—dishevelled hair, unironed dress (kurta-pyjama) and ordinary chappal. But as a speaker he was sharp and logical. He used to always do homework and come prepared for a debate in the House. A man of international standing, he had given tough time to treasury benches. The caste equations did not favour him but he had won one election after another with ease.

In 1962 as well as in 1967, Bihar sent a Marathi to the Lok Sabha. He was from Pune. There have been many other such leaders in the Rajya Sabha, but rarely in the Lok Sabha. Limaye's childhood was spent in Maharashtra. He completed his education from there. But he chose Bihar to contest elections. For the first time, he reached Parliament by winning the election from Munger in 1962. In 1964, the Socialist Party and Praja Socialist Party were merged and the United Socialist Party was formed. Madhu Limaye went to the Lok Sabha for the first time on USP ticket. In 1973, Limaye won the election from Banka in Bihar.

Insider, outsider issue was, fortunately, not raised in other countries like Mauritius, Trinidad, Guyana, Kenya, Fiji, and Britain. In the Caribbean country Guyana, Cheddi Jagan of Indian origin had become President in the 60s. After that, Indians like Shivsagar Ram Gulam (Mauritius), Navin Ram Gulam (Mauritius), Mahendra Chaudhary (Fiji), Vasdev Pandey (Trinidad), S. Ramanathan (Singapore), Rishi Sunak (Britain), Kamala Harris (America) have become Prime Minister, Vice President and President of different countries. Recently, an Indian citizen, Tharman Shanmugaratnam, was elected President of Singapore.

So, we have to come out of castes, language, religion, gender etcetera. It is because we have members in parliament from Africa to Europe and America and New Zealand. This means that Indians who had gone to far off countries in search of employment are now deciding the fate of those countries. The list of MPs outside is long. To mention a few, Meva Ramgovind (South Africa), Parminder Singh Marwah (Uganda) and Sonia Virdi (Kenya). Sonia, in fact, is the first Asia-origin woman MP in Kenya. Canada which has many migrants from Punjab and Haryana has also several MPs of Indian origin. Therefore, the only lesson to now learn is, stop insider-outsider debate—without delay.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Saffron Washing Machine

The zealous claim of BJP that it wants to "remove corrupt people from public life" is indeed 100% correct. Among the 25 Opposition leaders (from "corrupt" parties) who have chosen to cross over to the BJP as many as 23 have managed to earn a reprieve with corruption cases against them either closed or put in the "cold storage". It proves that BJP is nothing but a "saffron-coloured washing machine" which can turn even the "blackest" leader to absolutely "pristine white". So naturally BJP acts as the "social detergent" helping public life get rid of all stain of corruption.

Medical Milestone

In a groundbreaking medical advancement, Richard Slayman, 62, received a kidney transplanted from a genetically modified pig at Massachusetts General Hospital. Just two weeks after the surgery, Slayman was discharged, marking a significant leap in organ transplantation. This success offers hope to countless patients awaiting transplants. Dr. Leonardo V. Riella, the medical director, and the hospital team deserve commendation. The possibility of harvesting multiple organs from transgenic animals could revolutionize healthcare. Slayman's bravery inspires, potentially saving numerous lives. This achievement in xenotransplantation highlights the remarkable progress of science. While hoping for widespread accessibility, it's crucial to recognize such achievements amidst skepticism. It's a stark contrast to beliefs dismissing scientific advancements, reaffirming the importance of medical progress.

Media in Turmoil

Since the rise of AI-driven internet, the fourth estate, synonymous with media and journalism, faces a triple threat. Firstly, there's a significant decline in readership as online content consumption surges, causing newspapers to lose revenue. Secondly, advertising income dwindles as tech giants like Google and Facebook dominate the ad market. Lastly, AI algorithms replace human journalists, reducing their numbers and compromising investigative reporting. However, there's hope for journalism's revival. Internet giants should pay for news content, and global bodies like the EU and G20 must address tech companies' responsibility. Failure to resolve these issues jeopardizes the fourth estate's crucial role in upholding democratic values.

Wake up to Trauma to Beat Depression

By Vickey Prasad

Before we plunge into the discussion of depression, an invisible psychological leviathan swallowing day by day millions of lives across countries, let us first understand lucidly what trauma is. Basically, trauma is a psychological wound or injury caused by the fear of harm and threats or by the actual harm that occurred to us—physically, mentally, emotionally, or sexually. Similar to the physical ailments that do invade the immunity system of an individual's body, there are a variety of mental ailments, disorders, and conditions that do deactivate, to say metaphorically, the marrows of life, such as the urge to recreate, the passion to achieve the set goals, the endeavors to undertake any sort of responsibility, the involvement in social gatherings, and so on. In such critical situations, nothing but pessimistic thoughts dawn on and compel the traumatized person to dissociate from everything, including life. Thus, the prolonged condition of staying in a state of brooding and bereft of vitality without any hope to venture out into what we call a 'normal' life defines the acute state of depression.

Nevertheless, what problematizes our lives is our unknowability of those traumatic experiences. We fail drastically to make sense of them, and as a result, we find ourselves struggling seamlessly into a dark loop of depression. There is a distinguished theory in the discourse of traumatology and emotional wellbeing called Name It to Tame It, a theoretical proposition introduced by Dr. Daniel Siegel. The theory implies a technique to cope with any traumatic situation in our daily lives. Let's simplify it more. Unless we know, understand, and name the specific kind of emotion, existential threat, or psychological ailment, it will not help us tame it properly. Here, taming means the act of regulating all the troubled emotions and thoughts that push us into the vortex of vexation, indecision, and ultimately, inaction, so that we can control them in the best possible ways.

The most effective skill to cope with trauma before landing on the darkest territory of depression is to develop a tuning with aesthetic vocations on a personal level. How does it help in the abatement of traumatic thoughts? As soon as something unpleasant attacks us, either physically or mentally, that accident immediately creates an energy field of negativity around us. This negative energy called trauma terminates all our endeavors of amusement. Therefore, what we have to understand is that we need to cling to our aesthetic habits at any cost by deactivating the source of negativity emerging from the unpleasant memory of the accident. We have to be vigilant of the fact that any traumatic experience is devastating our psychic balance, simply by snatching away the marrows of life discussed above. Reviving ourselves by means of embracing aestheticism helps to a great extent to cope with trauma.

Dr. Shoma Morita's Japanese psychotherapy, known as Morita Therapy, has successfully treated a variety of mental disorders and challenges. In this therapy, we have to calm ourselves down and then try our best to cognize the fluctuations of our thoughts and our tormenting feelings so that we can re-ground our behaviors in reality. According to the structural aspect of the therapy, there are four stages: intensive repose, light monotonous activities, meaningful activities, and social reintegration. Through these stages, we can tell ourselves that things around us will not change the way we wish; rather, we can accept the befallen situations in order to return to the track of normalcy cognitively, emotionally, and physically.

A change in our perspective of living does assuage the intensity of traumatic experiences and prevent us from falling into the pit of depression. For instance, it is a certain fact that life is not a bed of roses, nor is it full of thorns only. The philosophy behind healing and getting rid of trauma is that we have to acknowledge, experience, and bear the reality of life, which is replete with radiance of joy, hope, and celebration, on the one hand, and despair of dejection, loss, and melancholia, on the other.

Another most effective way to not let the monster of depression creep inside you is to accept the fact that it's okay to feel whatever you feel. No matter how bad the circumstances have become, we need to calm down, take a deep breath, and ask three fundamental whys: First, why should I destroy my whole life if failure is a part of our lives? Second, why should I bother about those who have hardly been a part of my journey throughout? Third, why should I value my near and dear ones as well as whatever appeals to me?

Answering these three whys makes us resilient and eager to combat trauma, though we have many other coping skills. Depression will always be defeated if we inculcate within ourselves the values of self-compassion and self-realization and create a positive self-image that is nonchalant to negative thoughts. Thriving IPL betting market grips Khairagarh district

Concerns rise over political interference in betting

Central Chronicle News

Khairagarh, Apr 07: The fervor of IPL season extends beyond cheering for favorite teams, as a bustling betting market emerges, drawing participants from all corners of the district.

Despite efforts to curb illicit gambling, the allure of easy money continues to entice both young and old, with many establishing online betting IDs to evade law enforcement scrutiny. Utilizing computers, laptops, and mobile devices, wagers are placed on every ball, every shot, and every over, shaping the dynamic landscape of the betting scene.

However, alongside the fervent activity, concerns deepen regarding the involvement of white-collar individuals in this underground enterprise. Operating through coded communication and constantly changing contact details, bookies navigate through the shadows, evading detection by law enforcement. Furthermore, reports indicate a worrying trend of local speculators with political ties infiltrating the betting network, raising questions about the integrity of the game and the influence of vested interests.

Ebb and flow of cricket betting sentiment

Amidst the thrill of cricket matches, the betting sentiment experiences fluctuations, dictated by the ebb and flow of the game.

From the very first ball until the triumphant team's victory, prices in the cricket betting realm oscillate, mirroring the excitement on the field. Within this intricate world, terminology like 'one paisa' for one lakh, 'Athani' for fifty thousand, and 'Chavanni' for twenty-five thousand are commonly used.

Throughout the match, three pivotal sessions dictate the rhythm of betting. The first session encompasses the initial ten overs, while the latter five or six overs of the second innings mark the final crucial phase. During these periods, bets extend beyond just the match outcome, encompassing individual player performances.

In the realm of IPL cricket, bookies categorize the twenty-over match as a 'long innings', with ten overs constituting a session, and betting focusing on the final six overs considered a 'short innings'. Should a bettor wish to adjust their wager, they communicate with agents using coded language, such as 'I have taken twenty rupees'.

Operating within this sophisticated network, modern communication tools like laptops, mobile phones, and voice recorders facilitate transactions. However, amidst this backdrop of excitement and opportunity, a darker reality emerges.

For the youth ensnared in this black market, the allure of quick gains tarnishes their futures. As they squander their hard-earned money and plunge deeper into the world of gambling, their lives become ensnared in the web of deceit, leading to irreparable consequences.

376(2)(n), 4, and 6, Sahil Deshlehare was remanded to judicial custody. This swift and decisive action was made possible through the commendable efforts of police personnel such as Suraj Kumar Sharma and Vidya Khusro, who played instrumental roles in the proceedings.

Shopkeepers encroaching on road at Tempo Chowk

Call for administrative action goes unanswered

Central Chronicle News

Khairagarh, Apr 07: The tempo of urban life quickens with each passing day, yet amidst this hustle and bustle, concerns arise as shopkeepers encroach upon vital roadways, notably at Tempo Chowk.

Since the inception of the district, traffic congestion has become an ever-present challenge in the city. At Tempo Chowk, situated along the Dauchora Lanji Marg, encroachments extend as far as 6 to 7 meters beyond shopfronts. This encroachment not only impedes pedestrian flow but also obstructs vital government infrastructure, with encroachers brazenly removing government boards and seizing milestones installed by the Public Works Department (PWD).

The repercussions of these encroachments reverberate throughout the community. School students, in particular, endure difficulties navigating the congested area, while shoppers grapple with limited parking options, often incurring fines. Despite mounting complaints, the administration's response remains elusive, emboldening encroachers to persist in their unlawful activities.

Inaction breeds impunity, emboldening shopkeepers to flout regulations with impunity, exacerbating the inconvenience faced by the public. Urgent intervention is imperative to restore order to the city's streets and safeguard the well-being of its residents.

Administration silent
Despite concerns from various quarters, no concrete action has been taken yet against the encroaching shopkeepers. In the past, before the formation of the district, there were instances of decisive action taken to remove encroachments. However, since then, the administration's response has been notably lacking.

Despite complaints from the media, social media, and citizens, the administration has not addressed the issue adequately, with only sporadic actions being taken as a form of compensation.

Political interference stalls encroachment action

An unfortunate reality surfaces regarding the encroachment issue: when administrative officers attempt to take action against encroaching shopkeepers, political interference obstructs their efforts. This interference hampers the execution of concrete measures to address encroachment, perpetuating the monthly increase of encroachment in the city.

Increasing traffic pressure

The district headquarters of Khairagarh grapples with escalating traffic pressure as encroachment issues persist unabated. Each day witnesses traffic congestion at key intersections, accompanied by a concerning frequency of minor accidents. Amidst these challenges looms a pressing question: is the administration waiting for a major accident to prompt action?

The municipality takes action from time to time to remove encroachments, even today we have taken action after receiving complaints. PWD board has been removed, only PWD officials can take action for that.

Pramod Shukla, CMO Khairagarh

I am not aware of the matter regarding removal of the board, you are telling me I will look into it and then action will be taken as per rules.

India lose 2-4 against Australia in second hockey Test

Perth, Apr 07 (PTI):

The Indian men's hockey team dished out a much-improved performance as compared to its previous game but it still lost 2-4 to Australia in the second Test of the five-match series here on Sunday.

After the 1-5 drubbing they received on Saturday, the Indians were able to play in equal terms against their formidable opponents in the first and second quarters of the match.

Despite their efforts, India faced an early setback as Australia took the lead in the sixth minute through Jeremy Hayward's powerful low drag-flick from a penalty corner. However, India managed to draw level soon after with Jugraj Singh converting a penalty corner in the ninth minute. The Indian team gained further momentum when skipper Harmanpreet Singh scored his 180th career goal just before half-time, giving India a 2-1 lead.

The third quarter proved to be decisive as Australia mounted relentless pressure on the Indian defense, scoring three goals within a short span. Hayward struck again with his second goal from a penalty corner, followed by Jacob Anderson's deflection and Nathan Ephraums' timely slap, taking the score to 4-2 in favor of Australia.

Despite India's efforts to mount a comeback in the final quarter, the Australian defense held firm, denying India any further goals. The match ended with Australia securing their second consecutive victory in the five-match series.

Candidates Chess

Praggnanandhaa stops Gujrathi's applear

Toronto, Apr 07 (PTI):

Indian grandmaster R Praggnanandhaa came up with a spectacular game to down compatriot Vidit Gujrathi in the third round of the Candidates Chess tournament here.

It turned out to be a satisfying day for the only sibling to make to the Candidates ever as R Vaishali also scored her first victory in the event at the expense of Nurgul Salimova of Bulgaria in what was also the lone decisive game in the Women's section.

In the men's section, D Gukesh tried to make some headways but could not really dent the solid defences of Ian Nepomniachtchi of Russia, while Frenchman Firouza Alireza's extra pawn came to a naught against top seed Fabiano Caruana of United States.

The other American Hikaru Nakamura, however, had no difficulty in getting an easy draw as black against Nijat Abasov of Azerbaijan. In the women section, Koneru Humpy played out an easy draw with white against Zhongyi Tan, Tinjie Lei of China signed peace with Aleksandra Goryachkina of Russia, while the other Russian Kateryna Lagno split the point with Anna Muzychuk of Ukraine.

With 11 rounds still to come in both eight-players double round-robin tournament, Caruana, Gukesh and Nepomniachtchi share the lead on two points apiece in the men's section. They are now followed by Gujrathi and Praggnanandhaa on 1.5 points each. Nakamura, Alireza and Abasov complete the line up another half point behind.

In the women's event, Zhongyi Tan with two points remained a half point clear of nearest rival Goryachkina with Humpy, Vaishali, Lagno on their toes with 1.5 points each.

Lei, Muzychuk and Salimova share the sixth spot with one point each in their kitty.

Praggnanandhaa chose an accelerated Schielmann defence out of a Ruy Lopez that is seldom seen in top GM games. Pragg, as he is fondly called, is known to spring surprises beyond imagination of his opponent, and Gujrathi realized this very early in the opening.

That Gujrathi was obviously in for a long grinding game as his first white after a brilliant start was visible as he spent a lot of time in the opening but then the complications were clearly above the human mind.

The game fluctuated in the early middle game between an equal position and sometimes favouring Gujrathi but it was not easy to find all the best moves every time he was posed a question.

In the end Gujrathi was left to play 11 moves in about five minutes with the position not favouring him and as is often the case, the ticking away clock took its toll on the Indian.

Tiafoe, top-seeded Shelton advance to US Men's Clay Court Championship final

Houston, Apr 07 (AP):

Defending champion Frances Tiafoe and top-seeded Ben Shelton will play for the U.S. Men's Clay Court Championship title after winning semifinal matches.

Tiafoe, ranked 21st, defeated Luciano Darderi 6-2, 7-6 (2) and looks to become the event's first repeat champion since Steve Johnson did it in 2017 and 2018.

After a dominant opening, Darderi rallied for a second-set tiebreaker. But Tiafoe was relentless and clinched his first ATP final of the season on his opponent's double fault.

"Great performance from me today," said Tiafoe, who credited more aggression and more fun for his return to the final. "It's a little different clay out here in Houston, you can play more like a hard court." Shelton came back from losing a first-set tiebreaker to beat Tomas Martin Etcheverry 6-7 (4), 6-4, 6-4 and reach the second ATP final of his career and his first on clay.

Shelton, a 21-year-old ranked 16th, acknowledged it took him until a few games in the second set to find his form. "You have a lot of time out here, playing on clay. The game just moves a little bit slower, you have more time to process," Shelton said. "I tried to use that to my advantage today and really happy to be in the finals my first time here in Houston."

CSK bank on home advantage against unbeaten KKR

Chennai, Apr 07 (PTI):

Defending champions Chennai Super Kings would expect a lot more from their top-order as they aim to get their campaign back on track against a power-packed Kolkata Knight Riders in the IPL here on Monday.

Back-to-back defeats would not create panic in the forever calm CSK dressing room but the management will be keen to fix the flaws going ahead.

Skipper Ruturaj Gaikwad and the highly rated Rachin Ravindra need to up their game to provide CSK the start they need in the power-play. Gaikwad is striking at 118.91 while Ravindra will be itching to make an impact after not doing much in the previous two games.

CSK's leading run scorer has been Shivam Dube who has tallied 148 runs at an impressive strike rate of 160.86. It remains to be seen if the young Sameer Rizvi is brought back into the team. The 20-year-old uncapped batter displayed promising intent in his RCB skipper Faf du Plessis felt they were 15 runs short but also conceded that batting became better in the second innings.

'Jos is best white-ball opener in world cricket'

Jaipur, Apr 07 (PTI):

Virat Kohli may be leading the IPL charts with 316 runs as an opener, but Rajasthan Royals' head coach Kumar Sangakkara feels that Jos Buttler is, by far, the best white ball opener in world cricket.

Buttler was back in form with a 58-ball-100 not out as Rajasthan easily beat Royal Challengers Bengaluru by six wickets despite Kohli's eighth IPL hundred. Asked about England limited overs skipper's return to form, Sangakkara said: "Jos is the best white-ball opener in the world, and all he needed to do was sit back and ignore some of the noise." Buttler, on his part, agreed there was anxiety with his poor run of form in recent times.

"However long you've played the game, you still have those anxieties and stresses. Sometimes you just have to tell yourself it'll be okay. "Just keep digging in, working hard, at some point we will be okay. I actually did feel really good in the last game, even though I only scored 13 or something." Riding on Kohli's century, RCB posted 183/3 but Royals took 19.1 overs to chase the target and secure their fourth win on the trot.

Mbappe sets up late equalizer as French leader PSG

Paris, Apr 07 (AP):

Kylian Mbappé came off the bench and set up a late equalizer as runaway French league leader Paris Saint-Germain and rock-bottom Clermont finished 1-1.

Mbappé took a pass from striker Goncalo Ramos and masterfully played it back into the penalty area in the 85th minute. PSG is 13 points clear of second-placed Brest, which hosts relegation battler Metz on Sunday, and a record-extending 12th league title seems a formality. After this weekend, there are only six rounds and 18 points remaining.

PSG faces Barcelona in the first leg of their Champions League quarterfinal at Parc des Princes on Wednesday, and coach Luis Enrique left out Mbappé, goalkeeper Gianluigi Donnarumma and other first-teamers. Mbappé went on against Clermont midway through the second half.

Messi scores in his return, helps Inter Miami get a 2-2 tie against Colorado

Fort Lauderdale, Apr 07 (AP):

Lionel Messi returned and helped salvage a tie for Inter Miami. Messi scored shortly after checking in to begin the second half and helped set up Leo Afonso's go-ahead score two minutes later. But Cole Bassett scored in the 88th minute for the Colorado Rapids and the game ended in a 2-2 tie on Saturday night. It was Messi's first appearance for Inter Miami since a hamstring issue led to him getting subbed out early in the second half of a CONCACAF Champions Cup match against Nashville on March 13. He had missed four Inter Miami games since, plus two games with Argentina. He wasted little time announcing his return Saturday. Messi's fourth goal in as many MLS matches this season came in the 58th minute, beating Colorado keeper Zach Steffen with a low shot that hit the left goalpost, then skidded back across the goal mouth before settling into the next just inside of the right post.

14 places identified as 'drug hot spots' in Jammu

● Efforts on to wipe out drug menace

Jammu, Apr 07 (PTI)

Fourteen locations have been identified as 'drug hot spots' in Jammu, police on Sunday said, highlighting various efforts aimed at eliminating the drug menace in the city.

Jammu Senior Superintendent of Police (SSP) Vinod Kumar said that 71 cases related to the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act were registered and 85 peddlers arrested along with large quantities of contraband substances, primarily heroin, so far this year.

"We have identified 14 locations as drug hot spots in the city and carried out 85 raids at these places besides increasing the presence of manpower. These locations were also brought under increased surveillance of district special branch officials," the officer told reporters here.

He said that 13 notorious drug peddlers were booked under the stringent Prevention of Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances (PIT NDPS) Act in the past three months compared to a total of 24 last year.

"We have launched a two type strategy to tackle drug menace with primary focus to create awareness among people and secondly rehabilitation of drug addicted youth who are treated as victims," the SSP said.

"Police has recently opened a state-of-the-art drug rehabilitation centre which is equipped with all facilities and a qualified staff," he added.

Seeking active support of people in eradicating the drug menace, he said even if any police personnel was found involved in drug peddling, strict action will be taken against such persons as per the prevalent laws.

"Of the total cases, police has busted the forward and backward linkages of 27 cases and attached three properties of notorious drug peddlers while similar action is on cards against others," he said, adding the investigations have so far not revealed a direct link of narcotic smugglers across the border.

The SSP said the police are also keeping surveillance on former Over Ground Workers of terrorists to ensure that they are not recycled and get involved in narco-terrorism.

"There was no instance where drug smugglers used luxurious vehicles...in fact, most of the arrests were made from public transport," he said.

He said that separate teams have been constituted in view of the Lok Sabha polls, while additional manpower have been deployed at checkpoints to ensure free and fair elections.

'Over 24k displaced people to vote from relief camps'

● 50% LS polling stations in state vulnerable

Imphal, Apr 07 (PTI)

Eleven months of conflict, over 50,000 displaced people and a prevailing anti-poll sentiment in a section - the Election Commission in violence-hit Manipur is gearing up for the challenging task of holding Lok Sabha elections in the state in less than two weeks even as the campaign scene is muted so far. Chief Electoral Officer Pradeep Kumar Jha said over 24,500 displaced people have been identified as eligible to vote and special polling arrangements have been made in relief camps to enable them to exercise their franchise.

"A total of 2,955 polling stations will be set up in the state for the Lok Sabha elections, out of which around 50 per cent have been identified as sensitive, vulnerable or critical. We are also setting up 94 special polling stations to facilitate voting by internally displaced persons (IDPs)," Jha told PTI.

According to the Election Commission of India (ECI) norms, a 'vulnerability mapping' of hamlets, villages and electoral segments that may be expose to threat and intimidation is conducted ahead of polls. "Steps have been taken to identify history sheeters, trouble mongers, and persons causing vulnerability and bound under CrPC. These critical and vulnerable polling stations will be brought under webcasting and videography along with deployment of micro observers and additional deployment of CAPF (central armed police forces)," Jha said. Special teams have been formed to deal with voters with empathy and voter awareness activities have also started, he said. "The activities are being designed keeping in mind the sentiments of the displaced people who have lost the comfort of being in their home and there is some level of frustration and negativity," he added.
